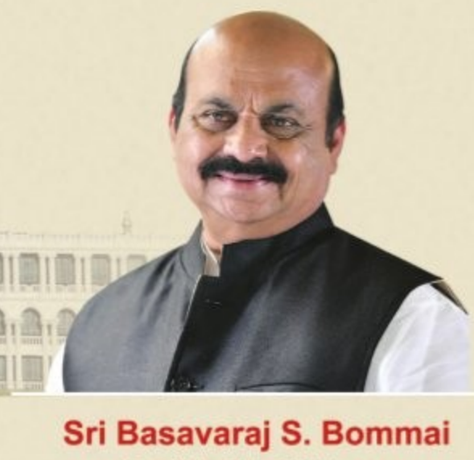
GOVT PUSHES FOR FLEX-FUEL VEHICLES

In a bid to substitute petroleum imports, the Union government has advised automobile makers to start manufacturing flex-fuel vehicles and flex-fuel strong hybrid electric vehicles complying with BS-VI emission norms within six months, Union Minister Nitin Gadkari said on Monday. Gadkari said this move will drastically reduce greenhouse gas emissions from vehicles on a well-to-wheel basis.

Sri Narendra Modi
Hon'ble Prime Minister of India

75 Azadi Ka Amrit Mahotsav

GOVERNMENT OF KARNATAKA



Sri Basavaraj S. Bommai
Hon'ble Chief Minister

Government's historic decision to benefit distressed families.

The Government has undertaken several measures for providing relief to various sections of the society distressed due to heavy rains and floods between July and November, 2021.

A historic decision made to help flood-affected farmers

The State Government has decided to give additional crop loss compensation to farmers over and above the rate fixed by the Central Government.

(Rs. per hectare)

Type of Crop	SDRF Guideline Rate	Additional Rate from State Govt.	Revised Rate
Rain-fed	6,800	6,800	13,600
Irrigated	13,500	11,500	25,000
Horticulture	18,000	10,000	28,000

An additional expenditure of approx. Rs.1,200 crore would be incurred for crop loss compensation with the revised rates.

Increase of compensation to farmers whose crops were damaged due to heavy rains

- Crops in 12.52 lakh hectares were destroyed due to floods in the state between July and November 2021.
- Action has been taken to credit crop damage compensation directly to the bank account of farmers within one week of uploading details of joint survey of crop loss in the Parihara App.
- Till now, a sum of Rs. 926.40 crore has been paid to the bank accounts of nearly 14.4 lakh farmers.
- In the last one month, an amount of Rs. 796 crore has been paid as crop loss compensation to about 12.90 lakh farmers.

Compensation to families whose houses were damaged by floods

- According to the extent of damage to houses compensation ranging from Rs. 50,000 to Rs. 5 lakh will be paid. This is higher than SDRF/NDRF guidelines.
- Till now, an amount of Rs. 171.20 crore has been paid to residents of 23,872 houses
- Emergency relief amount of a total of Rs. 10,000/- per family, including additional amount paid by state government, has been paid to families whose houses were water logged. Till now, 85,860 families have been paid the relief amount.
- The Government has incurred an expenditure of Rs. 3326.86 crore to pay compensation to victims of floods at the revised rate.

As enshrined in our Constitution, - to safeguard public property and to abjure violence is the fundamental duty of every citizen of India.

Elections in 5 states unlikely to be deferred

EC discusses Covid-19 with health secy, asks him to expedite jabbing in poll-bound states

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ New Delhi

AFTER the Election Commission's flurry of meetings on Monday with senior officials of the Union health ministry and other stakeholders on the Covid-19 situation and poll preparedness ahead of the Assembly elections in five states early next year, sources said polls are unlikely to be put off.

After perusing the data presented by the Union health ministry, the poll panel noted that the percentage of those administered the first dose of Covid vaccine was low in Uttar Pradesh, Punjab and Manipur as compared to Uttarakhand and Goa where it is close to 100%. It advised the ministry to expedite vaccination, including administering the second dose. Health Secretary Rajesh Bhushan briefed the panel for nearly an hour.

Hours later, the health ministry issued an advisory to the poll-bound states to ramp up the vaccination process, adding progress will be monitored on a daily basis.

A team led by Chief Election Commissioner Sushil Chandra team will begin its three-day visit to Uttar Pradesh from Tuesday. The schedule of the Assembly polls in the five states — Punjab, Uttar Pradesh, Goa, Uttarakhand and Manipur — is likely to be announced early next month. The Commission has already visited Punjab, Uttarakhand and Goa.

The panel also met top officials of the Indo-Tibetan Border Police, Sashastra Seema Bal and Border Security Force and advised strict vigil on the International Border. It asked the Narcotics Control Bureau to ensure drugs do not influence polls, particularly in Punjab and Goa.

Dramatic AAP debut in Chandigarh polls

The Aam Aadmi Party on Monday made a dramatic debut in the Chandigarh Municipal Corporation elections, wresting 14 out of 35 wards. The ruling BJP came a close second with 12 wards in a hung house | P11

In UP, the EC team is slated to meet the chief secretary, the director general of police and other top state government officers, including those of the health department. It will also meet representatives of political parties.

Last Friday, responding to a query on the suggestion of an Allahabad High Court judge to postpone polls by a few months in UP, Sushil Chandra had said an appropriate decision will be taken after his visit to the state next week.

COVAXIN ONLY OPTION IN 15-18-YEAR AGE GROUP

New Delhi: The vaccine option against Covid-19 for children in the age group of 15-18 years, who will be inoculated from January 3, will only be Covaxin, according to new guidelines issued by the Union Health Ministry on Monday. Teenagers in this age group will be able to register on the CoWIN portal from January 1 | P11

15-18-yr-olds will be vaxxed in schools, colleges, says CM

BOSKY KHANNA @ Bengaluru

LEARNING from its experience of drawing adults and eligible population to vaccination centres and achieving a 100 per cent vaccination target, the government has decided that it will take no chances with the health of children and senior citizens.

Chief Minister Basavaraj Bommai told TNIE on Monday that all teenagers in the age group of 15-18 will be vaccinated at schools and colleges to reduce the possibility of children missing their vaccinations. Discussions have been held with the education and health departments along with the medical fraternity, he added.

On giving booster doses to those aged above 60, the chief minister said that people from the target population will initially be called to vaccination centres. "We have data on people who are in this age group and also those with comorbidities. Apart from vaccination centres, booster doses will also be given at their doorsteps, based on their age and comorbidities," he added.

Bengaluru Urban has achieved 100 per cent vaccination coverage, while in the entire Bruhat Bengaluru Mahanagara Palike limits, which also include some of the villages on the fringes, there is a gap of 10 per cent, Bommai said.

Directing officials to take up the door-to-door vaccination drive aggressively, he requested people to come forward and take the vaccination.

The paediatric association, which is working with the government, supported the chief minister's statement on vaccinating teenagers at schools and colleges. An association member said, "Those aged 15-18 go to schools and PU colleges. Educational institutions have complete data on these children and vaccinating them will not be a challenge. Interactions with schools have indicated that they are keen to set up vaccination centres. With this, monitoring the health of children and ensuring their vaccination can be streamlined."

Bengaluru: Following a notification from the Ministry of Education, the Department of Pre-University Education (DPUE) has instructed all its colleges to conduct Surya Namaskar for students from January 1 to February 7 as part of the Azadi ka Amrit Mahotsav celebrations. "The programme will be held every day from January 1 to February 7 for students of 11th and 12th, and a circular has also been issued to the colleges," said Snehal Rayamane, PU Board director. | P4

KARNATAKA SLIPS IN HEALTH INDEX RANKINGS

CHETANA BELAGERE
@ Bengaluru

KARNATAKA has been in war mode trying to step up health infrastructure in the state, but NITI Aayog's Health Index rankings released on Monday show that the state has slipped from 16th position in 2018-19 to 19th this year in the incremental index and has gone down from the 8th position to 9th in the overall index. Of all southern states, Karnataka has shown the sharpest decline. The state's overall score on various parameters slipped from 59.29 to 57.93.

NITI Aayog has categorised Karnataka among 19 large states. The states are ranked on parameters including neonatal mortality rate (NMR), under-five mortality rate (U5MR) and full-immunisation coverage. The learnings from the previous three rounds of the Health Index were taken into account to develop the Health Index Round IV 2019-20. Previous indicators were reviewed and three new ones were added for larger states. These are Maternal Mortality Ratio (MMR), the proportion of pregnant women who received four or more antenatal care checkups (ANC) and level of registration of deaths.

The report stated that Karnataka, Himachal Pradesh and Haryana are among one-third of the larger states in terms of overall performance indicating better health systems, but have a negative incremental performance from the base year (2018-19) to reference year (2019-20)

Karnataka has been classified in the 'Achievers' category overall, but in the incremental performance, it has been marked 'Not Improved'.

There are some disturbing trends, like deterioration in vital parameters such as sex ratio at birth, full-immunisation coverage, antenatal care within the first trimester, proportion of pregnant women who received four or more antenatal care checkups and also the proportion of institutional deliveries. P7

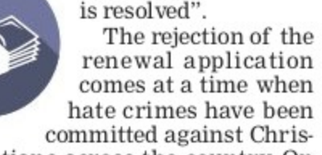
358 newborns died in undivided Ballari district in eight months

KIRAN BALANNANAVAR @ Ballari

UNDIVIDED Ballari district reported deaths of 358 newborns in eight months, raising concerns of the state government. The Vijayanagara Institute of Medical Science (VIMS) alone recorded 293 neonatal deaths and six newborn fatalities in a single day. Officials, however, maintained that this is the normal infant mortality rate (IMR) and there has been no increase in numbers as compared to last year.

"Between April 2020 and November 2021, 358 neonatal deaths were reported in undivided Ballari district. Among 358, 293 deaths were at VIMS and the remaining 65 were in new Vijayanagara district.



VIMS Hospital in Ballari, where 293 neonatal deaths were reported

Multiple reasons, including underweight, illnesses of both baby and mother, are the main cause behind deaths," a VIMS official said.

Karnataka, on average, reports 24 mortalities per 1,000 babies, while in undivided Ballari district, it is under 12. Health Minister Dr K Sudhakar said malnutrition is the main reason for increased number of deaths. P9

No foreign cash nod for Mother Teresa NGO

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ Kolkata

THE Mother Teresa-founded Missionaries of Charity's application for renewal of a licence to receive funds from donors abroad was turned down on Christmas by the Union home ministry, which said it noticed some "adverse inputs" while considering the application.

"The renewal application under (the) Foreign Contribution Regulation Act (FCRA) for the renewal of FCRA registration of Missionaries of Charity (MoC) was refused on 25 December 2021 for not meeting the eligibility conditions," the Union home ministry said in a statement.

The MoC has not filed any "revision application," the ministry added.

The matter came to light after West Bengal CM Mamata Banerjee claimed the Centre froze all the bank accounts of Mother Teresa's Missionaries of Charity in India.

To clarify its position, the Centre issued the statement on Monday, denying that it froze the MoC's bank accounts. It said the MoC itself had sent a request to the State Bank of India to freeze its accounts.

The MoC, too, issued a statement that read: "There is no freeze ordered by the MHA (Ministry of Home Affairs) on any of our bank accounts. We have been informed that our FCRA renewal application has not been approved."

M Prema, superior general of the MoC, said, "As a measure to ensure there is no lapse, we have asked our centres not to operate any of the FC (foreign contribution) accounts until the matter is resolved".

The rejection of the renewal application comes at a time when hate crimes have been committed against Christians across the country. On December 23, members of the Hindu Jagaran Vedike allegedly barged into a convent school in Karnataka's Mandya district, disrupted a Christmas celebration and threatened the school authorities.

Cruel Xmas gift: Kolkata vicar general

Dominic Gomes, vicar general of the Archdiocese of Kolkata, called the rejection of the application a "cruel" Christmas gift. "We condemn the government action against the MoC and are appalled by the timing and lack of empathy to consider the humanitarian disaster this decision will cause," he said

To go on city rounds again, says enough time given to officials

BOSKY KHANNA @Bengaluru

BENGALUREANS, get ready to drive through well-tarred, pothole-free roads. Pedestrians, be prepared to enjoy walking on garbage-free roads.

As Chief Minister Basavaraj Bommai had promised citizens of an improved Bengaluru, he told TNIE that enough time has been given to officials and staffers to improve the city. Action will be initiated and surprise city rounds will be taken up in the coming days, he added.

> I assure you that work on Bengaluru development is being done and results will soon be visible. I will conduct checks and surprise inspections
> Basavaraj Bommai, Chief Minister

After attending an event to distribute cheques to beneficiaries who lost their family members to Covid on Monday, he said that so far, natural causes were the reason for the delayed execution of infrastructure works, but now no more leniency will be shown.

"In the coming days, people will see a lot of improvement in Bengaluru, not just on major roads, but on roads in every ward. The government is working on Bengaluru's development and betterment of Bengalureans. A road map is being prepared and now deadlines will be set for each project. Earlier, no timelines were set for projects, but now all four government agencies (BBMP, BWSSB, BESCOM and BDA) will have to work together and complete the work in short, fixed time frames," he said.

After his last city visit, directions were issued to officials to clear encroachments on stormwater drains, free up bottlenecks and take action against encroachers.

"I assure you that work on Bengaluru development is being done and results will soon be visible. I will conduct checks and surprise inspections," he said.

A senior government, requesting anonymity, said, "These statements are a part of the upcoming city corporation elections. The BJP government, MLAs, MPs, MLCs and former corporators have started to show the work they are doing to woo voters."

Hit by Covid delays, Cauvery project to supply additional water by '23-end

S LALITHA @Bengaluru

THE Cauvery Water Supply Scheme - Stage V Project, which is slated to supply an additional 775 Million Litres of Water Per Day (MLD) to nearly 50 lakh residents in the City, will be able to do so only by March 2023. The waste water component of the project will be ready by the end of 2023, said a senior official of the Bangalore Water Supply and Sewerage Board (BWSSB).

The Japan International Cooperation Agency is funding the Rs 5,500-crore project. When completed, Cauvery water will be supplied to 110 villages spread across Mahadevapura, Dasarahalli, Rajarajeshwari Nagar, Byatarayanapura and Bommanahalli.

Speaking to The New Indian Express, BWSSB Chief Engineer, Kavery, S V Ramesh, said the pandemic-induced delays had made the project miss nearly four months of work. "It has all picked up pace now, but due to the disruption in work, the first phase of the project will now be ready by the first quarter of 2023 instead of the end of 2022. A total of 35 per cent of overall infrastructure work has been completed as on date. If you take the water supply alone, 45 per cent of the work is over," he said.

Water shutdown tomorrow

Bengaluru: Drinking water supply will be disrupted from 3 am to 9 pm on Wednesday (December 29) in many areas of the city to carry out replacement work of the corroded 250-mm dia bypass of the 2500 mm diameter butterfly valve at TK Halli. Among the areas that will be affected are Yelahanka, Jakkur, Byatarayanapura, Marthahalli, KR Puram, Nagarbhavi, Whitefield and KR Puram. The full list of affected areas will be available on www.karnataka.bwssb.gov.in

The 14 Sewage Treatment Plants will take longer to be completed, probably by the end of 2023, Ramesh said.

The pandemic has also ensured a shortage of equipment required for the project. "Mammoth pumps that can pump water at the rate of 5,000 cubic metres per hour are being imported from Japan. A total of 27 such pumps needs to be installed at the three pumping stations of Thorekadanahalli (TK Halli), Harohalli and Tataguni," he said. In addition, hundreds of huge valves being purchased from Germany are yet to be supplied. "The pandemic has ensured shorter working hours for factories there and our orders are yet to be supplied," he added.

Laying of transmission line from TK Halli to the City, the main trunk line, seven ground-level reservoirs, seven Intermediate Sewage Pumping Stations and the STPs are the key components of the project.

The City presently receives 1,450 million litres of Cauvery water per day, which is pumped from a distance of nearly 90 km.

Retd IAS officers to head panels for restructuring transport corpns, Escoms

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ Bengaluru

IN order to make transport corporations and Escoms financially self-reliant, committees led by retired IAS officers have been set up, Chief Minister Basavaraj Bommai said here on Monday.

Bommai was speaking at a function marking the induction of electric and BS-6 diesel buses into service by Bengaluru Metropolitan Transport Corporation (BMTC) at Vidhana Soudha.

"Since it is difficult to run the corporations depending on government subsidies, a committee headed by retired Additional Chief Secretary M R Srinivasa Murthy has been constituted for restructuring transport corporations," he said.

The committee would present recommendations on plugging pilferage and means to improve service, raise resources and make corporations profitable, Bommai said.

The buses launched by the CM in Bengaluru on Monday | NAGARAJA GADEKAL

Referring to raising BMTC revenue, he said earlier, many city-based public sector enterprises used to hire BMTC buses to ferry their employees. "We will talk to PSUs like HAL and IT companies to convince them to utilise BMTC services," he promised.

Bommai also suggested that BMTC go for a makeover in its look and design, to make it more appealing to commuters.

BMTC should become the number one transport corporation in the country with improved quality service, better look and efficient utilisation of human resources, he said.

Similarly, a committee headed by retired Additional Chief Secretary K Jairaj has been constituted to restructure Electric Supply Companies (Escoms), he added. "If transport corporations and Escoms become self-reliant, it will reduce the burden on the government exchequer," he pointed out.

EDUCATION INTERRUPTED

Thousands of students yet to get govt scholarships

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@Bengaluru

A massive backlog of scholarship applications has led to students suffering as they have not received any status update from the government.

According to former minister and MLA Dr HC Mahadevappa, many students are facing hardships as colleges are putting pressure on them to pay fees. Though students had applied for scholarships through the State Scholarship Portal (SSP), many are yet to receive funds. Students are confused as they did not receive rejection letters too for their applications. The issue is affecting thousands of students, especially SC/ST and backward class candidates, he said.

Dr Mahadevappa has written to Chief Minister Basavaraj Bommai, Education Minister Dr Ashwath Narayan and Social Welfare Minister Kota Srinivas Poojary highlighting this issue. In the letter, he stated that universities were unwilling to issue students their marks cards as they had not paid their fees. Students are unable to go for job interviews too because of this issue.

Responding, Social Welfare Minister Kota Srinivas Poojary had stated that the issue would be resolved within a month and a meeting would be held. Students are facing a problem as either their Aadhaar or bank details have not been linked properly, he added.

Fitness mantra for PU students: Surya Namaskar for a month

BENGALURU: Following a notification from the Ministry of Education, the Department of Pre-University Education (DPUE) has instructed all its colleges to conduct Surya Namaskar daily for students from January 1 to February 7. The Ministry has asked all state education departments to conduct the programme as part of the Azadi ka Amrit Mahotsav celebrations, the 75th year of Indian Independence. Students participating in the programme will be awarded certificates. ENS

PETER VIDAL

28th December : If there was anyone driving the world today, then they'd have trouble changing gear. With the Sun and Moon both in wild, adventurous, care-free moods, many of us may be saying one thing and doing another. Ah well, you can't have everything! Rome wasn't conquered in a day, as they say!

ARIES (Mar 21 - Apr. 20) When friends fall out, you're always the one who seems to get upset. Your planetary influences are becoming kinder and something will happen to restore your faith in human nature. You'll be experiencing social changes soon, and you may be surprised to be proved wrong on a major matter!

TAURUS (Apr. 21 - May 21) It may be some weeks before you are able to make total sense of a partner's behaviour. In the meantime, you are quite justified in pushing ahead with your own plans. But, and this is a very big but indeed, never promote your personal interests at someone else's expense.

GEMINI (May 22 - June 21) So much of what has been going on has been hidden from view, so it's hardly surprising that you're not fully in command of the situation. But be prepared for a friend to blurt out the truth. And, when they do, be sure to have your story ready! And keep smiling.

CANCER (June 22 - July 23) Quiet contemplation and solitude are advisable if at all possible, all the more so because you need time to put recent events into perspective. Try not to take on too many new commitments, otherwise you'll soon find that something has to give.

LEO (July 24 - Aug. 23) If possible, put professional crises on hold and take advantage of opportunities to improve your domestic situation and family relationships. Excellent prospects will come your way if a move of home or domestic improvements are planned. Try not to be overwhelmed by too much information, though.

VIRGO (Aug. 24 - Sept. 23) You were born under a sensitive sign, and you'll be mightily relieved to hear that the planets are about to cease hassling you and your friends. Expect your responsibilities at work to multiply daily, and avoid over-committing yourself until you're clear about all the options.

LIBRA (Sept. 24 - Oct. 23) The Moon's helpful influence will assist you in your efforts to get a relationship back on the rails. You must take the initiative. If you're still feeling stressed at the weekend, it could be because you are not allowing yourself to let up. Relax whenever you can!

SCORPIO (Oct. 24 - Nov. 22) There's still a great deal on your plate and recent family changes are settling down. Don't be too unkind if a partner seems to have completely missed the point. After all, it's not long ago that you were also guilty of a misunderstanding.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23 - Dec. 22) There's definitely something bothering you at the moment, you're just not sure what it is. There's an air of mystery, and skeletons which have been in the cupboard for too long are threatening to come out. And, when they do, you will have to improvise - and fast!

CAPRICORN (Dec. 23 - Jan. 20) Routine chores are piling up and need to be tackled without delay. This is a process you must be aware of if you are to make the most of your many talents and avoid being distracted by trivia. Professional challenges are looming, but you'll soon be able to break free with one bound.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 - Feb. 19) Listen to people who are in a position to help you, especially to advise you on certain decisions which will have to be taken quite soon. In fact, it's clear that a family member has been partly responsible for your present, peculiar predicament. Maybe they can show you the way out!

PISCES (Feb. 20 - Mar 20) After recent difficulties and delays you may not have yet woken up to the fact that you're closer to achieving a major ambition than seemed likely a short while ago. News which you have been longing for will arrive before long, so please hang on in there.

MLC polls, anti-conversion Bill on meet agenda

BJP state core committee and state executive committee meetings will dicuss party organisation

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ Bengaluru

THE party performance in the State Legislative Council elections from local bodies constituencies, preparations for Zilla and Taluk Panchayat polls and the push for the Anti-Conversion Bill are among the issues that are likely to come up for discussion during the BJP state core committee and state executive committee meetings in Hubballi on Tuesday and Wednesday.

Senior BJP leaders, including Chief Minister Basavaraj Bommai, National General Secretary in charge of Karnataka Arun Singh, former Chief Minister BS Yediyurappa and others are attending the meetings. "We will discuss issues related to party organisation and other developments. The meeting, which is held once every two months, will take important decisions," Chief Minister Basavaraj Bommai told reporters in Bengaluru. Coordination between the party and government is good, he said. The government will come up with more programmes and go to elections on the basis of its good work, the CM said.

> We will discuss issues related to party organisation and other developments. The meeting, which is held once every two months, will take important decisions
> Basavaraj Bommai, Chief Minister

Responding to a question on speculation over leadership change, the CM termed it a media creation. Asked if cabinet expansion will be discussed during party meetings, Bommai said it is an internal matter of the party, and the high command would take a call on that.

In the past few days, many senior leaders including Arun Singh, BS Yediyurappa and BJP state president Nalin Kumar Kateel have rubbished speculation over leadership change.

BJP State General Secretary and MLC N Ravi Kumar said during the meetings that they would discuss various issues related to strengthening of the party organisation.

BJP performance in the council elections, especially in Belagavi, Mysuru, Hassan and Chikkamagaluru constituencies, are likely to be discussed in detail. In Belagavi, BJP candidate Mahantesh Kavatagimath was defeated by party leader Ramesh Jarkhiholi's brother Lakhan Jarkiholi. In four of five two-member constituencies, Congress managed to get more votes compared to BJP. The Anti-Conversion Bill that was passed in the assembly, but was not tabled in the Council, is also likely to come up for discussion.

Kateel replaces spokesperson of state party unit

BENGALURU: BJP Karnataka president Nalin Kumar Kateel has made as many as 17 new appointments to the party's organisation, including that of chief spokesperson, in an attempt apparently to send out a message ahead of the state executive committee and core committee meetings to be held in Hubballi on Tuesday and Wednesday. Captain Ganesh Karnik has been replaced by MG Mahesh of Mysuru as the chief spokesperson, with the former given the post of convener of the party's NRI Forum. Former minister Lakshman Savadi and Nayana Ganesh from Udupi have been appointed as vice-presidents of Karnataka BJP. Meanwhile, Murahara Gowda and Channabasavanagouda have been appointed as the presidents of Ballari and Vijayanagara districts. The appointments to the different cells have been made. H Yogendra has been put in charge of the legal cell. Interestingly, Kateel, who had removed former MLA B Suresh Gowda from the post of Tumakuru district president, did not make any appointment during the internal conflicts within the party in the district. Evidently, a district-level core committee meeting slated on Monday was also cancelled, sources informed TNIE. ENS

Chief Minister Basavaraj Bommai hands over a cheque as compensation to a beneficiary in Bengaluru on Monday | SHRIRAM BN

Children orphaned by Covid under govt care

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ Bengaluru

CHILDREN who were orphaned by the Covid pandemic are government's responsibility. Their education, books, school and college fees will be taken care of by the state government, said Chief Minister Basavaraj Bommai here on Monday.

"I assure families of victims that the government will arrange for education and upkeep of all such children," he said.

He distributed cheques to 20 beneficiaries from above poverty line (APL) and below poverty line (BPL) families who lost their family members during the pandemic. In all, 1,000 such beneficiaries were given cheques in all Assembly constituencies. The government handed over a cheque of Rs 1 lakh to BPL card holders and Rs 50,000 to APL card holders.

Congress MLA Zameer Ahmed asked the chief minister why the state is discriminating in handing over amounts to beneficiaries, while the Centre is not. "The government should give equal financial benefit to APL card holders also," he said.

Bommai replied that he will take details of APL card holders and discuss the issue with health and revenue departments to ascertain the financial situation before taking a decision.

Bommai said that so far, one lakh beneficiaries have been identified and 30,000 were given compensation.

Revenue Minister R Ashoka said that in Bengaluru, 10,000 beneficiaries were identified and given cheques.

RECORDS AT HOME

Revenue Minister R Ashoka said around 40-45 lakh farmers do not have proper Pahani land records and RTC details. From January 24, all farmers will be given their land record documents and RTC sketches at their doorsteps. Land conversion will now be done in one day as compared to six months to one year earlier, he added.

Hubballi gets facelift, but no Nadda at meet

ARUNKUMAR HURALIMATH
@ Hubballi

ONCE again Hubballi's Gokul Road (Airport Road) is wearing a new look, after it was washed and dotted with lane markings. Citizens have been appreciating the government for organising a two-day BJP state executive committee meeting here, which is expected to be attended by top national leaders and Union ministers. Even BJP national president J P Nadda was supposed to take part. However, party national general secretary and Karnataka in-charge Arun Singh has now confirmed that Nadda will not be taking part, in view of Covid restrictions.

After a decade, the state executive committee meeting is being organised in this region. This time, a two-day meet has been scheduled on Tuesday and Wednesday at a hotel on Gokul Road, where BJP national leaders, Union ministers, and Chief Minister Basavaraj Bommai are expected to attend. Therefore, roads leading to the hotel from the airport have been redone.

Meanwhile, Covid cases slightly increased in the state, following which the government released new guidelines. Therefore, Nadda's visit has been cancelled. "To welcome Nadda, a 50-km rally was organised, where 25,000-30,000 people were expected. But it is cancelled owing to rules restricting people at public places to under 300. Nadda's visit has been postponed, but the meet will be held as per the plan. Political resolutions and other programmes will be held," Singh said.

To welcome Nadda and VIPs, Gokul Road and other areas leading to the meet venue have been tidied up. Meanwhile, netizens welcomed BJP leaders with pictures of potholes and tagged them on social media.

Bommai is doing a good job: Arun Singh

Putting a full-stop to the rumours surrounding the supposed replacement of the Chief Minister, BJP's Karnataka in-charge Arun Singh said the government is doing a good job, and lauded the administration of Basavaraj Bommai. "There is no question of changing the CM and he will continue," he said. Singh was in Hubballi on Monday for the BJP state executive committee meeting, where he said both the party and government are working for the welfare of Karnataka.

Amid furore, Tejasvi withdraws religious reconversion comment

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ Bengaluru

AFTER being slammed by netizens and opposition Congress leaders, Bengaluru South MP and BJP Yuva Morcha president Tejasvi Surya on Monday withdrew his controversial remarks over reconversion of "those who left Hindu fold". Sources in the BJP, too, termed the statements uncalled for, especially ahead of elections in Goa and other states.

"At a programme held in Udupi Sri Krishna Mutt two days ago, I spoke on the subject of 'Hindu Revival in Bharat'. Certain statements from my speech have regrettably created an avoidable controversy. I therefore unconditionally withdraw the statements," Tejasvi Surya said on Monday, taking to a social media platform.

Surya's remarks made in Udupi on Saturday faced flak. The MP had stated that "those people who have left their mother religion for various socio-political-economic reasons over the course of India's history, those who have gone out of the Hindu fold must be brought back into the Hindu faith". He had also stated that mutts and temples should have yearly targets on reconversions.

Indian Youth Congress President BV Srinivas said instead of resorting to making such remarks targeting minority communities, BJP leaders should focus on issues concerning people. "Such remarks will not help anyone. People are suffering due to Covid-19 and are yet to get compensation. Unemployment is a major problem, farmers are suffering due to crop loss and floods. Let them talk about such issues and help people, and not resort to such statements," he said.

Surya's remarks came at a time when opposition Congress and Christian community leaders in the state are protesting against the Anti-Conversion Bill that has been passed in the legislative assembly, and is likely to be tabled in the legislative council in January.

A senior BJP leader said such remarks were uncalled for.

STATING that defection is more dangerous than religious conversion, former minister and Congress MLA Tanveer Sait charged that the government, dictated by defectors, has no moral right to bring Protection of Right to Freedom of Religion Bill, 2021. "Every citizen has a constitutional right to embrace any religion of his choice," he said.

Speaking to media persons here on Monday, Sait said Protection of Right to Freedom of Religion Bill, 2021, is passed in the Legislative Assembly, but is yet to clear the Council test. "Even if it is passed in the Council, we have decided to step up protest against the Act," Sait warned.

Recalling that the Centre has withdrawn controversial farm laws passed by the Parliament, he said the new legislation will also meet the same fate.

Meanwhile, Sait also called for the State Government to voluntarily support the bandh call and announced that the Congress will support it.

In Bhadravathi, 'Ghar Wapsi' for 9 Christians

SHIVAMOGGA: In the wake of the Assembly passing the contentious anti-conversion Bill, an incident of 'Ghar Wapsi' was reported in Bhadravathi on Sunday. Nine members of a family from Bhadravathi, who had converted to Christianity, returned to the Hindu fold on Sunday. These include Jayasheelan and Jayamma, and their family members. About 40 years ago, Jayasheelan's father, Elumalai, had converted to Christianity. But none of his family members were going to Church. They reportedly continued to follow Hindu traditions. Accordingly, they did a 'Ghar Wapsi' recently.

GPs log 77.35% polling, ULBs see 69% turnout

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ Bengaluru

ELECTIONS to 1,185 wards of 58 Urban Local Bodies and 1,257 wards in 57 Gram Panchayats across the state went off peacefully, with a record of 76 per cent polling on Monday.

The Gram Panchayat poll recorded a whopping 77.35 per cent, whereas ULBs scored 68.99 per cent, and 8 seats that went for bypolls recorded a lukewarm response, with mere 58.89 per cent turnout. In Mudalagi Town Municipality seat that went for bypolls in Belagavi district, the candidate was elected unanimously

In Sira City Municipal Council (CMC) in Tumakuru district, polls to 31 wards recorded 77.79 per cent, whereas Gadag-Betageri and Hosapete in Vijayanagara district recorded 65 per cent each, whereas Chikkamagaluru CMC recorded 60.74 per cent. The overall polling percentage for these CMCs is 67.13.

As many as 19 town municipalities and 34 town panchayats, including Annigeri in Dharwad and Bankapura in Haveri, and Athani of Belagavi also went for polls with an average of just above 70 per cent polling.

The results will be out on December 30, as counting takes place at centres set up in taluk and district headquarters.

LOOKING AHEAD 2022 LOOKING BACK

As half of the Greek alphabets are used up in naming variants of SARS-CoV-2, the year 2021 is ending without an end to Covid-19. This is the best time to look at how healthcare in Karnataka has evolved this year. Despite considerable capacity augmentation, the second wave caught all of us unaware. However, the state has to be credited with unprecedented augmentation in the capacity of all types of beds (ICU, oxygenated and regular), oxygen supplies and referrals.

The government had to reserve 50 per cent of beds in private hospitals through a notification to treat Covid-19 patients. This not being sufficient, the government had to set up step-down hospitals in association with private hospitals and hotels. In Bengaluru alone, private hospitals tied up with 32 hotels, providing over 1,200 beds for treatment facilities to recovering Covid-19 patients.

Yet, patients not requiring 24x7 medical attention/hospitalisation continued to occupy hospital beds, creating an artificial shortfall in beds for patients seeking new admissions. In the wake of any health emergency in future, such transient and inequitable care mechanisms cannot be relied upon as a sustainable model.

In addition to pandemic management and surveillance, best practices were implemented to improve laboratory infrastructure, facilitate sample flow to regional genome sequencing labs, and improve tertiary care facilities. Some of the best practices can be sustained with minor modifications. For example, chronic care management can employ tiered admission processes (CCC, DCHC, or DCH) and mobile teams to oversee home care. Tele-checking the patients' vital signs can help ensure continuity of care. Using non-profit and professional groups to introduce Covid-19 vaccination can be institutionalised to promote occupational health. Tele-ICU may be scaled up to provide emergency and intensive care throughout Karnataka.

The state capped the prices for Covid-19 tests, HRCT, digital X-ray and bed costs; similar measures can help reduce out-of-pocket medical expenditure, promoting universal health coverage.

Strengthening Comprehensive Primary Health Care (CPHC) is essential to prevent disease, ensure a continuum of care and reduce the burden on secondary and tertiary hospitals. Karnataka has been ranked the number one state in establishing Health and Wellness Centres (HWC) to deliver healthcare to communities. Specifically, the planned 11,595 HWCs can prevent and control the escalating burden of Non-Communicable Diseases (NCD). While 15 per cent of Karnataka's citizens have diabetes, 25 per cent have hypertension prevalence, as per the recent NFHS survey, which is partially a result of the growing burden (>30%) of the overweight or obese in the state.

HWCs can implement screening and management of NCDs at the community level, including the long-ignored mental health problems. Data from the Karnataka State Police reveal over 850 suicide and attempt-to-suicide cases have been reported from March 2020 to May 2021. Many have taken this drastic step due to fear, unemployment, poverty and other social reasons.

More as a function of better reporting or actual burden, Karnataka also witnessed the highest share of domestic violence. The government should prioritise investments in promoting mental health. Karnataka's health helpline has done good work, averting 2,062 suicides in the past eight years. Strengthening HWCs would be a gamechanger in this regard, as their service includes screening and basic management of NCDs, including mental health ailments.

Better nutritional status

The results from NFHS-5 have shown improvement in nutritional status, with a reduction in stunting and wasting. However, anaemia remains a significant problem among women and children at 47.8 per cent and 65.5 per cent, respectively. The government's decision to include egg and banana in the midday meal is welcome. Also, more focus needs to be paid to sanitation and hygiene as it is a vicious cycle; without adequate sanitation, the nutritional gaps cannot be addressed.

Mathrupoorna is a brilliant initiative of meal supplementation for pregnant and lactating women that has taken a back seat due to Covid-19 and needs to be boosted further by engaging stakeholders within the community.

Karnataka has been a model state in its fight against Covid. To sustain the gains achieved so far, it is crucial to ramp up surveillance and be vigilant in the fight against multiple variants and waves; it is equally important to build a robust and resilient health system for proactive handling of the multi-dimensional aspects of health.

Eighty nine students fell ill after consuming midday meals at their primary school in Venkatapur Tanda of Ranebennur taluk. A student reportedly found a dead lizard in the meal and started vomiting. Soon after noticing it, other students also started vomiting. They were hospitalised.

FRESH COVID-19 CURBS KICK IN FROM TODAY

Restaurants, hotels, clubs and pubs mandated to function at 50 pc of their seating capacity

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ Bengaluru

FOLLOWING curbs ordered by the state government to control the spread of Covid-19 during the festive season and New Year, city police commissioner Kamal Pant has issued orders imposing night curfew in the city.

As per the prohibitory order promulgated by the police commissioner under Section 144(1) of the CrPC on Monday, all movements and activities, except those permitted by the government, are prohibited during night curfew, which will be in force from 10pm to 5am every day, from December 28 till the morning of January 7, 2022.

Restaurants, hotels, clubs and pubs will have to function at 50 per cent of their seating capacity from December 30 to January 2, while all gatherings, meetings, conferences, marriages etc. must strictly limit the number of participants to 300 people, from December 28. The order stated that any violation of instructions shall be liable for prosecution under the provisions of the Disaster Management Act, 2005, IPC, and Karnataka Epidemic Diseases Act, 2020.

Meanwhile, the fresh curbs have disappointed the hospitality sector. Restaurateurs and pub owners expressed their displeasure over the move, and said it was a huge blow to the sector, which is already reeling under losses due to the pandemic. "The hospitality sector thrives in festive seasons, especially the New Year. The restriction to operate only at 50 per cent capacity and night curfew has come as a huge blow for us," a hotelier said.

21 test positive in Rajajinagar apartment

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ Bengaluru

OVER a span of a week, 21 Covid-19 cases have been reported in an apartment in Rajajinagar, creating yet another cluster in Bengaluru.

Some of the residents of Sobha Indraprastha who tested positive, have a travel history. "We are gathering their travel histories and have contained their flats, along with the floors above and below. We are testing all the other residents as well. The samples have been sent for genomic sequencing to ascertain which variant has caused the cluster," said Dr Thrilok Chandra, Special Commissioner, (Health), Bruhat Bengaluru Mahanagara Palike.

The city has 98 active containment zones, 31 of which are in Bommanahalli zone alone. This is followed by 19 in South Zone, 14 in Mahadevapura, 13 in East Zone, 10 in West, six in Yelahanka and five in RR Nagar. There are no containment zones in Dasarahalli.

Steady decline in sex ratio at birth in the state, says report

KARNATAKA has improved in total case notification rate of tuberculosis (TB) and modern contraceptive prevalence rate.

There has been a steady decline in the sex ratio at birth in the state with the number of girls to 1,000 boys dropping from 939 in 2015-16 to 935 in 2017-18 and 929 in 2018-19 to 924 in 2019-20. There has been a deterioration of -5 when compared to the base year, the report stated.

NITI Aayog noted that incremental changes in Health Index scores from 2018-19 to 2019-20 varied significantly across larger states with the vast majority recording improved performance. The largest increase in index scores (5.52 points) was recorded by Uttar Pradesh, while the largest decline was observed in Karnataka (-1.37 points). "Apart from Karnataka, all southern states showed improvement in the Composite Index Scores between the base year (2018-19) and the reference year (2019-20)," it noted.

NITI Aayog appreciated the state for monitoring at the highest level of government using the Health Index report. It said Karnataka has replicated the Index and because of this, the availability, quality and timeliness of data have improved.

9 MIMS students test positive

MYSURU: A new cluster has emerged in Mandya after nine students of Mandya Institute of Medical Science tested positive for Covid-19. Several students had gone to their native places in Kerala and had returned to campus on December 24. Upon testing them on arrival, they are found positive. As soon as four students tested positive, 145 girl students in the same hostel who were either primary or secondary contacts were advised to get tested, of whom five tested positive. According to MIMS director Dr M R Harish, a total of nine students have tested positive so far. ENS

10 more cases reported in Kolar

KOLAR: Ten more tested positive for Covid in Kolar district on Monday. Of the positive cases, six were reported from Srinivaspura taluk, two from Mulbagal, while one each from Malur and Bangarpet taluks. Recently, 34 medical students of Sri Devaraj Urs Medical College tested positive. DC Dr R Selvamani said all measures have been taken to collect samples of primary and secondary contacts. ENS

6 Maoists killed in encounter on TS-C'garh border

Dead include four women; five weapons and four rocket launchers also recovered

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ Khammam

IN a major setback to Maoist movement, six Naxalites died in an exchange of fire with the police in the jungles near Pesarlapadu in Sukuma district of Chhattisgarh, close to Telangana border, on Monday morning. Among the six ultras, who fell to police bullets in a 30-minute gunbattle with Greyhounds of Telangana and Chhattisgarh police, were four women.

The exchange of fire took place very close to Telangana border village of Kurnavalli in Cherla mandal of Bhadradri-Kothagudem district.

The police later found bodies of the slain Naxalites and five weapons, which included two 303 rifles, three DBBL guns and four rocket launchers, at the spot.

Acting on specific intelligence input that 30 to 40 Maoists were planning to attack police forces in Cherla Kistaram police station limits, a team of Telangana Greyhounds and Chhattisgarh police reached the forest area near Pesarlapadu at 7 am on Monday.

The police asked the Maoists to surrender but the ultras began shooting, forcing them to retaliate with gunfire. After 30 minutes, the Maoists guns fell silent. Then the police inspected the area from where the ultras opened fire and found the six bodies and the weapons.

Kothagudem SP Sunil Dutt said, "It was a joint of operation by Telangana and Chhattisgarh police. The bodies of the naxalites, all belonging to Chhattisgarh, are being identified and they have been shifted to Kunta in Chhattisgarh."

Meanwhile, tension prevailed in the border villages after the "encounter." Tribals who live in these areas are under the grip of fear, not knowing what will happen next.

Sand evacuation from Sun Temple to start soon

DIANA SAHU @ Bhubaneswar

MORE than 110 years after the British filled the towering architectural marvel with sand to prevent it from crumbling, the process of evacuation from the sealed Jagamohan (Mukhasala) of Sun temple at Konark in all likelihood will begin next month.

The archaeological wonder is Odisha's only world heritage site and the Archeological Survey of India (ASI), its custodian, has finalised modalities for assessment of the Jagamohan before removal of sand. Assisting the conservation body in the mammoth task planned to be carried out after a gap of 118 years is the Indian Institute of Technology-Madras.

The sand evacuation was necessitated after an endoscopy study through an existing hole at the top of the Amalaka carried out by the Central Building Research Institute to examine structural damages in the Jagamohan revealed that the sand filling has settled by around 12.5 ft and some stones had dislodged.

As part of the plan chalked out by ASI, in the first phase, a 6 ft X 6 ft window will be made on the western side of Jagamohan to create an access. There already exists an old opening made by the British near the spot.

For this purpose, a sturdy working platform is being planned over the Antarala (inner sanctum). Stone masonry steps will be removed for creation of the window.

The ASI proposes to do two core drilling - one at the old opening made by Britishers and another at the bottom of the Antarala. This will help understand the masonry of the wall. Then, a 6ft X 6ft window will be created on the western side of Jagamohan near the first Pidha level to create an access into the structure for inspection, documentation and finalising the further course of action to conserve the same.

The archaeological wonder is Odisha's only world heritage site

Tender for the work will be floated soon and the work is likely to extend up to four to five years. This was revealed at a workshop on 'History and Heritage of Sun Worship' at the IIT-Bhubaneswar where head of ASI (Bhubaneswar circle) Arun Malik delivered a presentation.

Sand was filled in the Jagamohan from 1903 to 1909 and since then, it has remained sealed. After Union Culture Minister Prahlad Singh Patel announced Centre's approval to removing sand from inside the monument last year, ASI formed a four-member committee of experts including associate professor of structural engineering at IIT-Madras Arun Menon.

The panel examined the monument and existing studies to decide on modalities to remove sand.

VC of Shiv Nadar University, Chennai, and former Director of CSIR-CBRI Prof Sriman Kumar Bhattacharyya said since there is a gap between the sand layer and roof of the Jagamohan, it can be said that the top part of the structure is in a stable state.

CBI concludes Walayar minor girls died by suicide

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ Palakkad

EIGHT months after it filed FIRs in connection with the death of two minor girls at Attappalam near Walayar here, the CBI on Monday submitted the chargesheet in the special Pocso court in Palakkad. The chargesheet filed in the trial court said the girls – siblings aged 13 and nine at the time of their death in 2017 – died by suicide due to continuous sexual harassment.

While Pambampallam natives Valiya Madhu and Cheriya Madhu and Rajakkad native Shibu have been arraigned in the death of the elder girl, Valiya Madhu and a youth who was a minor at the time of the incident have been named as accused in the death of the nine-year-old girl in the chargesheet filed by the CBI team led by Special Crime Cell DySP T P Ananthakrishnan. They were earlier chargesheeted by the police too.

All the accused have been charged with rape and abetment of suicide as well as under the Pocso Act. Provisions of the SC and ST (Prevention of Atrocities) Act have also been invoked against Shibu. Valiya Madhu and Shibu are in jail, while Cheriya Madhu alias M Madhu and the juvenile are outside.

Another accused, Pradeep Kumar, died by suicide in November last year.

The High Court had on March 18 ordered the CBI to probe the incident following a petition filed by the girls' mother after it was found that the police, who investigated the death of the elder girl – found hanging in the family's one-room hut at Attappalam near Walayar on January 13, 2017 – had written it off as suicide.

It was only after her younger sibling was found hanging at the same spot 52 days later and protests broke out that the elder girl's death was reinvestigated.

HC dismisses pleas of accused who threatened B'luru blast witnesses

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ Bengaluru

THE Karnataka High Court dismissed criminal revision petitions filed by three accused, including two from Kerala, who allegedly threatened the witnesses not to depose against the accused involved in the Bangalore serial blasts case. The three accused had posed themselves as reporters of Tehelka and visited witnesses in Madikeri.

The petitioners are KK Shahina, Suber Padupu from Kerala and Ummar Moulvi from Madikeri. They are said to be members of the People Democratic Party (PDP), Kerala.

The petitioners have filed separate criminal petitions questioning the order dated February 28, 2018 passed by the Principal District and Sessions Judge, Madikeri, dismissing discharge applications filed by them. They filed criminal revision petitions before the high court.

Yoganand and KB Rafiq had filed two separate complaints at Somwarpet and Siddapura police stations in Kodagu for offences punishable under provisions of the IPC and Unlawful Activities (Prevention) Act in November 2010 against the petitioners for allegedly threatening them.

According to the complaints, Shahina came along with three others in a vehicle on November 16, 2010 to the place of complainants. Introducing herself as a reporter of Tehelka, she allegedly asked the complainants about the serial bomb blasts in Bengaluru. She asked the complainants whether they have given a statement against Abdul Nasir Madani and T Nasir. Later, the petitioners allegedly threatened them if they gave oral evidence against Madani and Nasir.

HIGH COURT LAMBASTS COP FOR 'MORAL POLICING'

ENS @ Bengaluru

THE Karnataka High Court has imposed a penalty of Rs 1 lakh each on Sunil Balasaheb Patil, inspector of Malmaruti police station and a rehabilitation centre for forcefully keeping a 22-year-old woman and her 3-year-old daughter at the centre for five months. The verdict was delivered by Justice NS Sanjay Gowda who said that the act of holding the woman and her daughter captive was a case of imprisoning both the mind and body of the duo.

The court also expressed its displeasure that the act of the policeman amounts to moral policing and said that a police inspector cannot intervene in the married life of a person. The shelter— where victims of human trafficking and sexual assault are kept—— was also fined Rs 1 lakh. "The shelter acted with an unseemly enthusiasm to comply with the illegal request of the inspector and forcibly held the woman despite her repeated requests to be released...," the court noted.

The court has ordered the registry to deposit the fine amount in the name of the girl and the petitioner (the mother) can withdraw the interest. The court said that it is not for the police to barge into a marital relationship that was full of discord and impose its sense of justice.

Mahamahopadhyaya P Bhadreshdas Swami was presented with the 'Lifetime Achievement Award' by the Indian Council of Philosophical Research in New Delhi on Sunday, at the end of a three-day seminar at Swaminarayan Akshardham. The award was given to felicitate the seer for his contribution to the fields of philosophy and education, and his Sanskrit commentaries on the Upanishads, Gita and Brahmasutra. Former BJP National Secretary Ram Madhav, ICPR Chairman RC Sinha, professors and vice-chancellors of various universities were present

PEOPLE ELATED AS GOA GIVES NOD TO DEVELOP PORTUGUESE-ERA RD

TUSHAR A MAJUKAR @ Belagavi

THE Goa government has given green signal to develop the Portuguese-era road, which has been closed for traffic for years, bringing much relief to residents of Parwad, Kankumbi and surrounding villages in Khanapur taluk. This road connects Satre in Goa to Parwad village in Karnataka. The decision of the Goa government will help villagers of Parwad reach Goa border by foot within one hour, saving a lot of their time and money.

The Goa government had recently given a nod for development of the Portuguese road and a bridge over the Mahadayi River between Parwad and Satre. However, the ancient road within the Goa state limits will only be developed. "If this road is developed, the villagers of Parwad can reach Goa border by walking a distance of 10 to 12 km," sources said.

The Portuguese-era road connecting Satre village in Goa to Parwad in Karnataka will soon get a facelift

"Villagers of Kankumbi and Parwad go to Goa via Satre for paddy cultivation. They are more dependent on Goa for their source of income. The ancient Portuguese Road and the old bridge over the Mahadayi river are in pathetic conditions due to which villagers were not using it," they said. Villagers of Satre had urged the Goa government to develop the Portuguese road, which will provide huge relief not only to villagers residing in the border areas of Goa, but also in Karnataka. The culture and tradition of Goa is almost the same as Parwad, Kankumbi and surrounding villages. Following the demand of Satre villagers, recently Goa Minister Vishwajeet Rane gave immediate approval for developing the Satre-Parwad Road.

'Deaths of newborns worrying'

HOWEVER, Women and Child Development Minister Halappa Achar disagreed with Sudhakar's statement. Sudhakar said that high number of neonatal deaths in Ballari district is worrying and the government is holding discussions with the Women and Child Development Ministry. "In Raichur, Bidar, Kalaburagi, Vijayanagara and Ballari, mothers and babies are facing malnutrition, which is a serious issue. Our government's aim is to solve the malnutrition problem during pregnancy. We need more care," he added.

Achar said the IMR in undivided Ballari is shocking. "I am not a doctor and I don't know the technical reasons for deaths. But the entire state is getting the same nutrition kits. A state-level meeting will be held soon in this regard," he added.

THE POLITICAL SCENARIO IN PUNJAB ON SLOW BOIL

After decades of peace, Punjab is again simmering. The state whose politics was once restricted to two-and-a-half parties is suddenly buzzing with newly-minted players. If the results of the Chandigarh local body elections are any indication, AAP is on the uptick and the traditional parties—the Akali Dal and the ruling Congress—are on a tumble. Of course, Chandigarh, a UT, cannot be taken as a barometer of Punjab's mood; its present conjecture is a unique one.

Farmer union leaders Gurnam Singh Charuni and Balbir Singh Rajewal, fresh from a triumphant agitation, have floated their own political outfits. So has former chief minister Amarinder Singh—with vengeance on his mind, his Punjab Lok Congress is expected to tie up with the BJP. No one can foretell what this fragmentation will wreak at the hustings. Even after the Captain's exit, the Congress is faction-ridden. The Akalis have broken up with the BJP but not early enough to have purged themselves of the taint from the contentious farm laws. The BJP, anyway not a major player, will be identified with those laws, and it's unclear if its new friend Amarinder, a lifelong foe till the other day, can bring any succour. The AAP's potential gains may be offset by the fresh harvest of debutants. The new chief minister, Charanjit Singh Channi, was just about becoming popular with his down-to-earth approach when he was hit by his own voluble party chief Navjot Singh Sidhu, not to speak of the two horrific cases of sacrilege-related lynching and a mystery bomb blast in a court. It hardly helped that Channi had to change the top cop and law officer because Sidhu so ordained!

The former cricketer, the loosest cannon perhaps in Indian politics, has single-handedly sown confusion and chaos in Punjab's politics through his mercurial statements and bouts of sulking. Decades ago, it was during a weak regime that Punjab slipped into its darkest phase. Hopefully, the gaggle of candidates at the starting line this time, driven by their myopic ambitions, do not ignore the deeper signs of disquiet.

JABS FOR ALL TO KEEP OMICRON AT BAY

Tamil Nadu has reported 34 cases of the highly-transmissible Omicron variant so far. As testing for it is only possible following a whole genome sequencing at a lab that is part of the national consortium, it is possible that TN has more such cases for which results have yet to be declared. Information available on Omicron shows it is extremely transmissible, capable of evading immunity conferred by previous infections and vaccines, and may be milder in severity (more information on this is needed). Even if it is milder, scientists point out that a highly-transmissible variant could cause an exponential growth in cases, thereby affecting—and even killing—a significant number of people. In TN, which continues to lag in vaccinations, this could prove dangerous. The state government, however, has been responsive to the threat. It has flagged to the Centre the short-sightedness in mandatory testing and quarantine only for international travellers from so-called high-risk countries. Of the 34 confirmed Omicron cases in TN, 25 cases are linked to non-risk countries while only six are linked to high-risk countries (source unknown for three). The state therefore wanted mandatory testing and quarantine extended to all international passengers. With no response from the Centre on this, on Saturday it ordered random sampling of passengers from non-risk countries be increased from 2% at present to 10%.

However, there is more to be done. While the Chennai Corporation has continued its surveillance through fever camps, it is imperative other civic bodies take up such initiatives in earnest. While it may be too soon to resume door-to-door surveillance, civic bodies must improve screening and monitoring of Covid patients. The number of cases in TN has been hovering around 600 for the past week with a test positivity rate of just 0.6%, but in Chennai there are some early signs of an increase. Worryingly, the state continues to lag in vaccination, with only 57.85% fully vaccinated. It needs to expand beyond holding mega vaccine camps to more innovative methods to ensure 100% coverage at the earliest.

India cannot be seen as deploying the democracy war cry on its immediate neighbours as indiscriminately as Big Brother America does with its superpower status

POLITICAL REALISM BEGINNING TO SHAPE FOREIGN POLICY

N SATHIYA MOORTHY

Distinguished Fellow & Head-Chennai Initiative, Observer Research Foundation

SOUMYADIP SINHA

The recent Myanmar visit by Indian Foreign Secretary Harsh Vardhan Shringla and New Delhi's announcement of a gift of one million Covid vaccines to the nation are evidence to political realism triumphing over adventurist neighbourhood policy that deploys democracy as a tool, notwithstanding the secretary's call for restoring democracy in the country. It all coincided with the UN Security Council taking a more realistic view about the Taliban rule in Afghanistan, another of India's neighbours.

This is Shringla's second visit to Myanmar in as many years. Ahead of the national elections that Nobel laureate Aung San Suu Kyi's National League for Democracy (NLD) won in November 2020, he had met with the nation's leadership in a unique combo that included Indian Army Chief Gen M M Naravane, indicating New Delhi's eagerness to strengthen bilateral relations on the one hand and the fledgling democratic credentials of Myanmar on the other. The NLD swept the polls better than the previous one five years earlier. Yet, it lost to the February coup this year. New Delhi has since readjusted to the realities of bilateral relations involving the immediate neighbourhood after having expressed early concerns over the coup, and more recently to a Myanmar court sentencing the septuagenarian to a four-year jail term.

Did India delay making up with the Tatmadaw, which is the government in power in Naypyidaw? Independent of India's claims to be the world's largest democracy, there are those who have sought to argue otherwise from time to time, so non-interference in the name of democracy is not a comforting option. It is unlike New Delhi deploying the Responsibility to Protect (R2P) in Bangladesh (1971) and Sri Lanka (1983)—where immediate relief awaited the refugees who had crossed into India—long before the terminology obtained international credence. Political initiatives and military participation only followed.

A similar question arose when, after taking back power in Afghanistan after a 20-year-long overstay and overkill by the US military, Taliban seemingly offered a hand to India. After joining the West in distancing itself from the Taliban, with past memories still hanging heavily, New Delhi soon readjusted itself to the realities on the ground. It needed to stay at least not on the wrong side of the Taliban lest there could be a repeat of the outfit playing second fiddle to Pakistani ISI masters on issues of cross-border terrorism.

Whole-process democracy: In context, China's claims, not long before India's new Myanmar initiative, of being a 'whole-process people's democracy' is laughable, to say the least. Yet, there may be some truth to the Chinese apprehension that the US's use of democracy as a tool of foreign policy is akin to a weapon of mass destruction (WMD). The reference is obviously to America under the erstwhile Bush administration using democracy as a foreign policy tool along with terminologies like WMD and Axis of Evil to brand—and destroy—nations that did not kowtow to Washington. Iraq under Saddam Hussein is a prime example, starting with the American deployment of WMD, which was there only in a PhD thesis of a British scholar.

It is in this context that China accused US President Joe Biden of hosting a virtual democracy summit as an attempt to revive Cold War ideological rifts, which Washington has since promptly denied. Yet, the US has also not given any credible and convincing explanation for the hurried convening of an online democracy summit, inviting only 110 of 193 on the UN's rolls. Does it mean that the US has not only branded the remaining 83 UN member states—like Sri Lanka, the region's oldest elected democracy—as undemocratic, but included Pakistan, which is a sham democracy?

After joining the West in distancing itself from the Taliban, with past memories still hanging heavily, New Delhi soon readjusted itself to the realities on the ground. It needed to stay at least not on the wrong side of the Taliban lest there could be a repeat of the outfit playing second fiddle to Pakistani ISI masters

The US invitees list for the democracy summit included only four South Asian nations, including India, Nepal and Maldives. The question thus arises as to why and how Bangladesh and Bhutan, which is the latest among monarch-volunteered democracies in the post-War global order, left out? In all this, the US's insensitivity to what Bangladesh dubbed the unilateral American sanctions on the nation's Rapid Action Battalion (RAB) stood out as it came about in the golden jubilee year, month and week of the nation's Independence.

Interference in internal affairs: In recent years and decades, however, some of India's neighbours have charged the nation with interfering in their internal affairs. Nepal, Bangladesh under Khaleda Zia earlier, and Sri Lanka too, had said so. Our closest friend Bhutan was not an exception after the incumbent government claimed that India had cut fuel subsidies and stopped gas and kerosene supplies to influence domestic voters ahead of what was only the second National Assembly polls in 2013.

More recently, Maldives' former president Abdulla Yameen, fresh from Supreme Court-ordered freedom from imprisonment and electoral disqualification, has added a new dimension to his opposition coalition's 'India Out' to 'India Military Out' campaign. In post-release rallies, Yameen recalled India shooting off three democracy-centric letters after the Maldivian Supreme Court's 1 February 2018 verdict on freedom for his arch rival and former president Mohammed Nasheed. In the 2013 elections, when he had won against Nasheed, Yameen had indicated that New Delhi was batting for his rival.

Something is amiss in all this and New Delhi cannot be seen as deploying the democracy war cry on its immediate neighbours as indiscriminately as Big Brother America does with its superpower status in every sense of the term from a safe distance. India's sworn policy of Vasudhaiva Kutumbakam stands for doing business with the governments that nations have. Wanting leaders of its choice—a superpower trait—is not in conformity with this policy.

A TREASURE TROVE OF ROCK ART IN BHIMBETKA

SRINIVAS SISTLA

Associate professor, Department of Fine Arts, Andhra University, Visakhapatnam

Bhimbetka, which is located amid a thick forest, is at a distance of about 45 km from Bhopal in Madhya Pradesh. It came to the limelight in 1957 when Vishnu S Wakankar discovered prehistoric paintings in the natural rock shelters of Vindhya Range. Fossils of Dickinsonia, which is an extinct genus of basal animal, were also found at Bhimbetka, and hence, the history of living beings at the place dates back to at least 100,000 years. During the 20th century, though many prehistoric sites came to light in several parts of India and elsewhere, Bhimbetka stands out for the large number of caverns with paintings. Seven hills at the place bearing seven different names, including Bhimbetka, contain as many as 762 rock shelters, and more than 400 display a wide variety of paintings, which were done by using natural mineral colours, primarily white and brick red or brown. Some of the world's oldest man-made floors created by arranging slabs side by side and walls built by overlapping boulders have also been discovered at this site. Many paintings date back to 8,000 BCE, though the rock shelters also contain works drawn in the later times, even up to the medieval period in Indian history.

The Bhimbetka paintings has been classified into several styles by Wakankar and others; but in general, the earliest examples show several animals, which include bulls, cows, elephants, wild boars, rhinoceroses and deer, and a range of birds, snakes and human figures as well. Nearly all figures in the paintings were monochromatic, that is, portrayed in a single colour. One style of figures contains a noticeable outline within which a colour was filled and in another widely-repeated style without an outline, the animal figures were created with a single stroke of a brush or some other tool by using the wash technique. Since the Bhimbetka paintings are monochromatic, like many other similar works across India, they appear two-dimensional or flat without any three-dimensionality. Still, many figures of animals display a great sense of naturalism, which makes it clear that the anonymous painters of Bhimbetka had observed the wild stock around them keenly, grasped their form and behaviour thoroughly before doing the paintings. Many animals are shown static, which means that they are firmly standing on the ground and a few others are shown moving forward or taking a leap into the air; at times, they are shown chasing and attacking human beings forcefully.

In the Bhimbetka paintings, humans are shown thin and linear by using a few lines denoting the hands, legs and torso, and a relatively large dot representing the head that contains no further facial features. In the hunting scenes, humans are shown smaller in size than the animals like bovines. Even wild boars, which are invariably smaller than humans, are shown to be much larger than men who are hunting them. Such a delineation clearly suggests that the prehistoric people had viewed themselves inferior to the strength and power of animals. Some animal drawings have been classified by scholars as X-ray style works; for, the bodies of the animals are drawn with varied patterns of criss-cross lines. These patterns may not represent any decorations done on these animals since they are depicted as prey in a hunting sequence and not as domesticated ones. The lines on the body have been interpreted as representing the animal's internal parts, like bones, muscles and intestine. One hunting scene that shows about eight nude men chasing a bull is quite well known and frequently reproduced in books, essays and picture postcards relating to the rock art of Bhimbetka. In a few unique examples, the belly of a cow and doe have been shown with a circular or oval line, which contains either vegetation or a figure of an unborn calf. At times, certain animals are drawn without adhering to the actual shape of the species. One such painting has been interpreted by some scholars as that of a bovine, and a few others as a mythical creature as the conical snout of the animal is unusually broad in size. Such a delimitation, in my opinion, had been adapted by the Bhimbetka artist to emphasise the power of the snout with which the animal attacks humans. In the painting, as a matter of fact, the animal is shown attacking a human being, who is very small in size, and also running away in fear. This one, as well as the so-called X-ray paintings, clearly suggest that the Bhimbetka painter had depicted his overall impression of the animals, and not a mere 'life study' of the same.

The Bhimbetka paintings of the historic period also depict dancing scenes where groups of people are standing with their hands held together. People of the time had also domesticated a few animals, such as a variety of cattle or even wild elephants. A few unique works show people balancing on the elephants, as if they had no fear of falling down. Paintings of the medieval period show the horse-riding warriors holding swords and shields. Unlike in other prehistoric locations, as for instance at Altamira in Spain or Lascaux in France, successive generations of people had lived for several centuries at Bhimbetka.

Death of SA apartheid icon

The news about the death of South African apartheid icon Archbishop Desmond Tutu is saddening and has sparked an outpouring of tributes from around the world. His contribution to liberate South Africa from the clutches of colonisers was tremendous.

Mafia is everywhere

This is with reference to The real mafia and goons in Uttar Pradesh (Dec 27). It is clearly seen that the mafia dominates everywhere. The West Bengal Assembly polls were full of violence supported by the government. The only difference is that some are adept at using the services of goons discreetly while others do it bluntly.

Dharmarajan A K, Thalassery

Build social harmony

This is with reference to Growth estimates and social tensions (Dec 27). The editorial has rightly highlighted the effects of social tensions on economic growth. Organically, the other part of economics is the needs of society. In the absence of one, the other is bound to meet with disaster. Therefore, the present regimes in the country must shun activities that cause social disharmony and follow the inclusive path.

A M Chakravarty, Hyderabad

Can't blame corporates

The editorial unfortunately seemed to paint the wrong picture of sporadic social tensions as if they are new events in the current scenario. And blaming corporate conglomerates for remaining taciturn over communal disruptions is untenable. Business tycoons give employment, create wealth and contribute to the national economy, unmindful of factors like caste, religion, region, etc. It is their prerogative to remain neutral and leave the subject of social harmony to the powers that be.

Venkat Desikan, Chennai

Start booster shots

This is with reference to Timing it right for coronavirus booster shots (Dec 27). As of now, about 40% of India's population is not eligible for a booster shot. Waiting for cent per cent vaccine coverage may not be prudent and it is good that the nation is starting with the third dose to all frontline workers, senior citizens and people with comorbidities.

Parthasarathy Mandadi, Tirupati

Putting rumours to rest

The heir apparent to the DMK throne in Tamil Nadu and CM Stalin's son, Udhayanidhi Stalin, has dismissed rumours that he is angling for a minister's post or that he might become deputy CM in his father's Cabinet. Former CM Karunanidhi had anointed his son as his successor but dilly-dallied in the matter of handing over the party's reins till his death. Stalin may not take after his father in this respect and Udhayanidhi might soon become a minister, though his chances of being the deputy CM might be sabotaged by seniors in the DMK.

Debutant AAP first in Chandigarh elections

BJP second, no party gains absolute majority in municipal corporation, result crucial before Punjab Assembly polls

HARPREET BAJWA @Chandigarh

CONTESTING Chandigarh Municipal Corporation elections for the first time, Aam Aadmi Party (AAP) emerged the most successful party, winning 14 of the 35 wards. Ruling BJP came a close second with 12, followed by Congress (8) and Shiromani Akali Dal (1). This means no party secured clear majority. The results were significant, with Assembly polls in Punjab next year.

Chandigarh elections used to be a two-horse race featuring Congress and BJP. AAP's entry made it a triangular contest. Other than winning 14 seats, AAP came second in five wards. BJP was runner-up in 16.

For AAP, the setback was the defeat of election campaign committee chairman Chander Mukhi Sharma. For BJP, sitting mayor Ravi Kant Sharma, former mayors Davesh Moudgil and Rajesh Kalia lost. BJP vice-president Vijay Rana also lost. For Congress, prominent ones who lost were former mayor Kamlesh and Chandigarh Congress president Subhash Chawla's son Sumit Chawla.

Anti-incumbency seems to have worked for AAP. People were unhappy with the saffron party, as charges of water and sewerage clearance were hiked. Parking lot rates and property tax were also increased. Covid cess, cow cess and price rise in general was also a factor.

"Due to major infighting, the absence of MP Kirron Kher and the party leadership's arrogance of the leadership of the party we lost these elections," said a senior BJP leader, adding that this will boost the AAP cadre before Punjab Assembly polls. It cane be noted that Himachal Pradesh CM Jai Ram Thakur and Uttarakhand CM Pushkar Singh Dhami had campaigned for the party.

AAP had made promises like promised 20,000 litres water per month per house free of cost, free public parking lots, free door-to-door waste collection, free primary education and mohalla clinics and clearing the waste dumping ground.

"This is an exceptional verdict. People of Chandigarh used to vote for the party in power at the Centre. But this time we have seen an aberration. Chandigarh is a middle-class city which was quite beautiful. But in the past few years, things have been in a state of decline due to the failure of governance. Also, there was anti-incumbency against BJP. AAP had urban middle-class support," said political analyst and professor Ashutosh of Panjab University.

Maharashtra sees 50% rise in Covid cases in 20 days

SUDHIR SURYAWANSHI @ Mumbai

MAHARASHTRA has reported a 50% rise in Covid-19 cases over the past 20 days. Chief Minister Uddhav Thackeray was told at a cabinet meeting on Monday that cases are rising rapidly across the state.

"In mid-January 2022, there will be a major rise in Covid-19 cases," Additional Chief Secretary Dr Pradeep Vyas, who also looks after the health department, said at the cabinet meeting. As per the Maharashtra health department data, the number of active cases now stands at 10,000, up from 6,300 on December 8. "Covid cases have risen by 50 per cent in the past 20 days in the state, and by three times in the last six days. The positivity rate is 1.06 per cent," said Dr Vyas.

Worryingly, while eight lakh people were being vaccinated per day some time ago, the figure has dropped to five lakh, informed Dr Vyas, stressing on the need for a concerted effort to vaccinate more people.

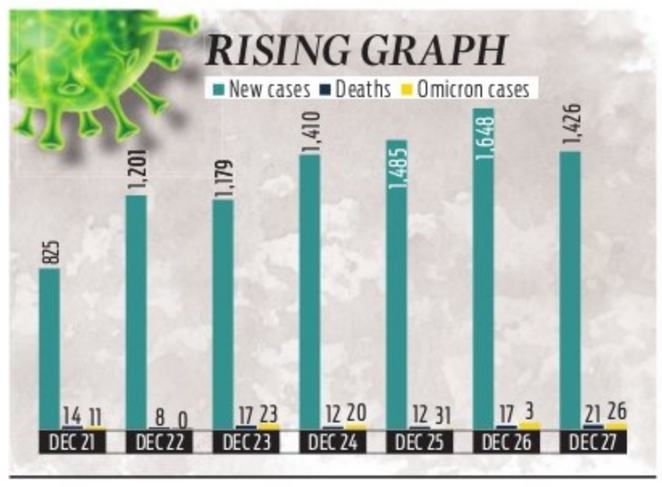
CM Uddhav Thackeray asked all guardian ministers in the cabinet to speed up the vaccination drive in every nook and corner of their districts. He said people should be encouraged to take the jab to contain the spread of the virus. The CM also asked for a meeting with the health task force to be convened in the next two-three days to review the situation and decide on what needs to be done.

People should follow basic Covid-19 norms strictly — masks, social distance and washing or sanitising hands. This will help to curb the spread

Rajesh Tope, health minister

Health Minister Rajesh Tope said there was no decision yet to impose a lockdown to restrict the movement of people. Lockdown will be imposed only when oxygen demand exceeds 800 MT, he added. "But people should follow the basic Covid-19 norms strictly — masks, social distance and washing or sanitising hands. This basic mantra will help to curb the spread," Tope said.

The Maharashtra government has already imposed night curfew from 9pm to 6am since December 25. It has also put restrictions on religious and social gatherings, including weddings. No more than 250 people are allowed in open-air gatherings, while a maximum of 200, or 25 per cent of capacity, can attend events in enclosed halls. Hotels, restaurants, malls and cinema halls across the state have to keep the number of visitors below 50 per cent of capacity.



Baghel promises action against Hindu seer for Gandhi insult

EJAZ KAISER @ Raipur

REACTING to alleged defamatory remarks about Mahatma Gandhi made by a Hindu seer at a Dharam Sansad in Raipur, Chhattisgarh Chief Minister Bhupesh Baghel said communal overtones with a vested interest will not succeed in vitiating social harmony in the state. "An FIR has been lodged and appropriate legal action will follow," the CM said after Raipur Police registered a case against Sant Kalicharan for his statement in which he had also lauded Nathuram Godse and justified Gandhi's murder.

The Maharashtra-based preacher made these remarks from the stage on the concluding day of the two-day Dharam Sansad held in the state capital. The FIR was registered late on Sunday night, following a complaint by Congress leader Pramod Dubey that Kalicharan had insulted the Father of the Nation with slanderous remarks.

While Baghel chided the BJP for not coming out openly against the objectionable remarks, Leader of Opposition Dharamlal Kaushik countered, "The seers arrive from across the nation. They offer their views as per their understanding. Mahatma Gandhi is Father of the Nation and will remain so for us." Over two dozen religious leaders from across Chhattisgarh and other states had gathered at the Dharam Sansad where Hindus were exhorted to get ready for 'Hindu Rashtra'.

Though the police have registered the case under IPC Section 294 (outrageous or obscene words or acts in any public place to the annoyance of others) and Section 505 (2) (statements seen conducive to public mischief), the Congress demanded that Kalicharan be charged with sedition as his comments had insulted not just Gandhi, but the entire country and the world.

Meanwhile, the organiser of the Dharam Sansad called the remarks against Gandhi "inappropriate". "The views should be seen as personal," said Neelkanth Tripathi of the Dharam Sansad Organising Committee in Raipur.

Lawyers write to CJI against hate speech

New Delhi: Seventy-six lawyers of the Supreme Court have written to Chief Justice of India N V Ramana demanding judicial intervention in the hate speeches and calls for "ethnic cleansing" at two religious events held recently in the national capital and Haridwar. On Monday, TMC MP Mahua Moita put out the letter on Twitter and wrote, "Urging Supreme Court to pay heed to this letter by lawyers urging suo moto cognizance to be taken of recent hate speech. No room for inaction. Wake up. Please." The letter was signed by lawyers such as Dushyant Dave and Salman Khurshid.

MVA to defy Guv order, hold Speaker election

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @Mumbai

DESPITE Maharashtra Governor Bhagat Singh Koshayri's objection over amendments in the Speaker election procedure, Maha Vikas Aghadi has decided to go ahead with it on Tuesday as per schedule.

Sources said Congress MLA Sangram Thopate's name has been finalised. MVA headed by Chief Minister Uddhav Thackeray had made an amendment in the Vidhan Sabha's business rule for the Speaker election. From secret ballot, it was changed to voice vote. This was submitted to the Governor.

However, Koshyari said the amendment was prima facie unconstitutional. He asked Thackeray to examine the decision by constitutional experts.

Senior Congress minister Balasaheb Thorat said as per the Constitution, the Assembly of the respective state is supreme when it comes to preparing and passing laws or making amendments.

Maharashtra Congress president Nana Patole said when MVA was formed, secret ballot was part of the business rule. "But the Supreme Court gave the order for open ballot rather than secret ballot voting for the Speaker's post. We have taken the right decision. The Governor should give his consent."

Sources in MVA said they have followed all procedures laid down for the Speaker election. "We made the amendment and passed the law. The Governor was informed about it. We have done our duty."

Covaxin alone for the 15-17; 39-week gap for boosters

SUMI SUKANYA DUTTA @New Delhi

COVAXIN is the only vaccine available for the 15-17 age group, vaccination for whom will begin on January 3. For, only Covaxin and ZyCoV-D have been granted emergency use authorisation for that age group, but the latter hasn't been rolled out yet.

As for healthcare and frontline workers and people aged 60 and above with comorbid-ities, booster shots can be had only 39 weeks or about 9 months after the second dose.

Adolescents born in 2007 or before can register on Co-WIN to book vaccine slots or can simply walk into vaccination centres, the Union health ministry said in a document. Co-WIN chief Dr RS Sharma told media that adolescents can begin registering from January 1 and can use their student ID cards as proof.

For the booster dose, the document did not clarify what type of vaccine will be available, but officials said it will be the same vaccine as the two doses before. The administration of the booster, termed "precaution dose" by the government, is set to begin on January 10.

"Co-WIN system will send SMS to such beneficiaries for availing the precaution dose when the dose becomes due. Registration and appointment services can be accessed through both, the online and the onsite modes," the ministry said in the document.

The government is looking at an additional eight crore beneficiaries in the 15-17 year age group, three crore healthcare and frontline workers and nearly 10-12 crore people aged 60 and above with co-morbidities.

Senior citizens with underlying conditions will simply need to choose a slot and centre for the booster shot if they go via Co-WIN, provided the the nine-month interval is over, but they will need to show a comorbidity certificate from a qualified doctor at the vaccination centre.

Meanwhile, a meeting of the National Technical Advisory Group on Immunisation is being called on Monday to further discuss the nitty-gritty of rolling out booster doses.

Prime Minister Narendra Modi announced the programmes for adolescent vaccinations and booster shots on Saturday night.

REVIEW MEETING

Shah calls for stronger drug-control mechanism

NEW DELHI: Union Home Minister Amit Shah on Monday chaired a high-level national meeting on narcotics coordination and directed the creation of a pan-India portal, a canine unit, free call centre and specialised task forces in states to curb the menace of drugs.

The minister reviewed the drugs abuse scenario and the mechanism to counter it during the third apex-level meeting of the narcotics coordination mechanism NCORD, which has a theme of eradicating drugs from the country with the objective of 'nasha-mukt Bharat abhiyan' or drugs-free India movement.

The meeting was organised by the federal anti-narcotics agency, Narcotics Control Bureau (NCB), and it was attended by the secretaries and police chiefs of various states and the Centre.

Shah underlined that the Narendra Modi government has adopted a zero tolerance policy against narcotics and it considers drug abuse as a major threat to the national security which can only be dealt with overall coordination.

"As per survey reports, the number of drug abusers has increased approximately seven fold in the last two decades. To protect, especially our children and youth, the home minister emphasised there is a need to create awareness against drugs and its ill-effects from a young age by incorporating it in academic curriculum," it was said in a statement.

Shah reviewed the drug trafficking and abuse scenario in the country and expressed his concerns over its emergence as national threat.

"He stressed the need for close coordination between the states and Central government agencies. The minister underscored the importance of organising NCORD meetings regularly," the government statement added. PTI

J&K govt inks 39 MoUs worth over ₹18K cr at maiden realty summit

FAYAZ WANI @Srinagar

OVER two years after Article 370 revocation, 39 MoUs worth ₹18,300 crore were signed at the first Real Estate Investors summit held on Monday in Jammu. Organised by Union Ministry for Housing and Urban Affairs and the J&K government, it was attended by investors and builders from across India, besides Lt Governor Manoj Sinha and Union ministers Hardeep Singh Puri and Jitendra Singh.

Sinha said the investment would bring stability and provide employment to youth. The companies that signed MOUs include Signature Global, Samyak Group, Raunak Group, Hiranandani constructions, Raheja Developers, Goel Ganga, GHP Group, Shree Naman Group and Chalet Hotels Limited. Other big names include Tulip, Ajay Devgn's Invoice Cinemas and NBCC.

Sinha said government land would be given to the investors, but they can also buy private land to set up housing colonies. "We have already framed laws in this regard."

On apprehensions by some parties that realty investment would undermine domicile law, Sinha said, "I think it is an attempt to raise the emotions of people. Real estate investment will not bring any demographic change."

However, former CM Mehbooba Mufti tweeted, "GoI's brazen loot & sale of our resources shows that the sole motive is to annihilate our identity & change the demography." Former CM Omar Abdullah tweeted, "People of Jammu should beware, 'investors' will buy up land in Jammu long before Kashmir."

Badals gone, BJP ropes in Akali faction for Punjab

PM Modi is expected to launch party's campaign in state early Jan

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ New Delhi

Political PULSE

THE BJP on Monday announced a three-party alliance for the upcoming Punjab Assembly elections, with a common manifesto on the anvil, besides a committee consisting of members of each constituent to finalise the seat adjustments.

On Monday the former Punjab chief minister and leader of the Punjab Lok Congress along with Sukhdev Singh Dhindsa, who leads a breakaway faction of the Shiromani Akali Dal (SAD), called on Amit Shah. The BJP chief J P Nadda was also present in the meeting. The BJP's election in-charge and the Union Minister Gajendra Singh Shekhawat was also present in the meetings. Dhindsa is an MP in the Rajya Sabha.

Later speaking to the reporters, Shekhawat said that three parties will jointly contest the Assembly elections. "Two members from each of the constituent of the pre-poll alliance will form a committee to go into the finer details of the seat sharing, and which party will contest from which Assembly constituency," said Shekhawat.

The BJP led alliance is pushing ahead with the election preparations amid indications that Prime Minister Narendra Modi will launch the poll campaign in Punjab in the first week of the next month. Prime Minister is yet to visit Manipur and Punjab out of the five election-bound states.

Shekhawat also told reporters that the three party alliance will put out a joint manifesto for the Punjab polls, which will be the agenda for them to work if voted to power. The minister exuded confidence that the alliance will come victorious in the polls, which appear setting out for a four cornered contest, with the Congress, Aam Aadmi Party and the SAD-BSP alliance being the three other claimants for power in the state. Another political outfit led by the farmers' union leaders is seeking to make the polls a five cornered contest.

Ahead of the finalisation of the seat adjustments among the alliance constituents, the BJP is on a spree to induct Sikh leaders in its ranks to shore up its image in Punjab where the party was put in a spot due to the farm agitation.

Nadda meets BJP's UP Brahmin leaders in 'aggressive' outreach op

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ New Delhi

BJP chief J P Nadda on Monday met party's Brahmin leaders from Uttar Pradesh as the party is bracing for an aggressive outreach among the community with the poll campaign picking up momentum.

Union Minister and BJP's election in-charge for UP had held a strategy meeting with the party's Brahmin leaders from the state.

Incidentally, Union minister and UP in charge Dharmendra Pradhan had held a meeting on Sunday where it was decided that all efforts would be made to get back the support of Bramhins.

According to sources, the party has formed a committee comprising BJP's Rajya Sabha chief whip Shiv Pratap Shukla, party leader Abhijat Mishra, former national secretary and Gujarat MP Ram Bhai Mokariya and Mahesh Sharma to reach out to Brahmin members of the community.

Miffed with Lotus

In the politically important state, castes play a major role to decide who gets power in Lucknow. As the current CM is from Thakur community, the Brahmins are said to be miffed with the saffron party.

The party's Brahmin leaders, including Union Minister Ajay Mishra, whose son has been arrested in connection with the Lakhimpur Kheri violence, will reach out to community members in their respective regions, eventually touching all 403 constituencies of the state.

Assembly polls in Uttar Pradesh are scheduled for early next year.

The BJP leaders have particularly strategised to counter the Opposition charges that the party led state government "has not anything for Brahmins". "The Bahujan Samaj Party (BSP) is wooing Brahmins in a big way. Besides the Congress general secretary Priyanka Gandhi Vadra is campaigning in the state, with focus to wean away the BJP's support base among the Brahmins. The BJP leaders have been tasked to counter the claims of the Opposition parties about the state government not doing enough for the Brahmins," said a senior BJP functionary.

Rahul Gandhi to launch Punjab rally on Jan 3

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ New Delhi

CONGRESS will kick off election campaign in Punjab on Jan 3 next year with former party chief Rahul Gandhi likely to hold a rally in Moga and directions have been sent to Punjab Chief Minister Charanjit Singh Channi and state chief Navjot Singh Sidhu to work in tandem so that the party presents a united stand at the campaign launch.

The campaign rally is scheduled at Moga's Killi Chahlan village. In the run-up to the 2019 Lok Sabha elections, the Congress MP had launched a Congress campaign for Punjab from the same venue along with a rally. The Shiromani Akali Dal (SAD) also recently held its 100-year celebration rally at the place.

Disgruntled leaders, infighting worry Congress

RICHA SHARMA @ New Delhi

INFIGHTING, leadership issues and disgruntled leaders —these are seemingly the most challenging time for the Congress as it observes the 137th foundation day Tuesday.

With trouble brewing in almost every state and recent defections, all eyes are on the five Assembly elections that according to several leaders would be important to decide the party's future. A win in 2-3 states would set the stage for smooth takeover of Rahul Gandhi as party president next year.

Some party insiders warn that lose in Punjab and Goa will lead to more exits both in state -and national-level.

The party has good chances to form government in Uttarakhand, but the recent infighting is a cause of concern for the central leadership. "The elections in five states are important. With the recent bickering among leaders in several states and exit of leaders have hit the morale of workers. Win in some states is very important. There is a buzz about the party disintegrating post election results but we will see churning and that is an ongoing process," said a senior functionary.

The party high command is also worried over arm-twisting by party satraps and senior leaders. Rajasthan CM Ashok Gehlot has been conveniently ignoring its directions and former Uttarakhand Chief Minister Harish Rawat went public with his anger.

In Parliament, there were several instances where MPs repeatedly defied party whip and nothing could be done about it. Even during the passage of the Election Laws (Amendment) Bill, many MPs decided to skip the proceedings. "There is weakening of the high command's grip and that is visible in recent public outrage by some leaders who have defied directives that issues should be shared at the party forum rather than going public with their grievances," said another party leader.

Parents of Kathua rape victim fear for life

FAYAZ WANI @ Srinagar

THE parents of the Kathua nomad girl, who was raped and murdered in Jammu and Kashmir in 2018, are living in fear after the Punjab and Haryana High Court released on bail two policemen, who were among the six convicted in the case.

"Sub-inspector Anand Dutta and head constable Tilak Raj have been released on bail. This is despite the fact that our appeal for tougher sanctions against the six remains unheard," the eight-year-old girl's father told this newspaper. "We cannot move freely in Kathua and Samba as we fear for our lives." The duo was also granted parole for 11 months and 14 days last year.

The father fears the main accused will also be released as it is yet to be ascertained whether he was an adult at the time of the crime. "Our case has already been weakened by release of the two convicts. Release of the main accused will further weaken our case. We will lose hope of justice as well," he said.

The family plans to move the Supreme Court to challenge the bail given to the two convicted policemen. In two orders on December 16 and 20, the HC had ordered the release of Raj and Dutta who have completed half of their sentence respectively. The court has also suspended their sentence.

The 8-year-old girl was kidnapped from Rasana village of Kathua in J&K on January 10, 2018 while she was grazing horses. A week later, her body with found with burn marks from near a place of worship.

The brutal gang rape and murder had caused outrage across the country, resulting in police action in the case.

Lost one eye to acid attack, Gujarat girl now aspires to crack civil services exam

DILIP SINGH KSHATRIYA
@ Ahmedabad

ALMOST six years after a man whose advances she rejected threw acid on her, Kajal Prajapati has resumed her studies and is determined to join the IAS. It took all these years and 27 operations before she could see the world again with one eye, as well as read and write.

"I turned down the proposal because I wanted to study and then he ruined my life," said the acid-attack survivor. On February 14, 2016, Hardik Prajapati, an engineering student, came on a bike and threw acid on her face, chest and arms near her college in Mehsana, Gujarat, where she was a first-year commerce student. Her face was disfigured and she lost her vision.

"My face burned like hell. I couldn't open my eyes. The doctors at the hospital where I was admitted didn't think I would ever be able to see with my own eyes again," Kajal recalled.

Kajal Prajapati | EXPRESS

Daughter of a rickshaw driver, Kajal's childhood dream was to become a police officer. "A boy of my caste used to come to my college every day and stalk me. On Valentine's Day, he placed a flower in front of me and said he loves me. I said I come to college for studies. He left in a huff, and returned after my classes were over to throw acid on me," said Kajal.

A series of painful operations followed. After the 18th operation, it was found that one eye was burnt by the acid, but there was a possibility she could see again with the other one. "I needed my eyes back. But before that, I had to go through plastic surgery because people got scared at my face. Then, I would get frightened on seeing myself in the mirror," she said.

Now that she can see with one eye, she is back in her first-year class in college after a gap of nearly six years. "I told my father that I wanted to study again and he agreed. These days I aspire to become an IAS officer so that I would be able to protect other girls. No girl should go through what I had to suffer," she said.

All that Kajal received from the government was ₹3 lakh as assistance, while her parents have spent over ₹15 lakh on her treatment. They had to sell their household items one by one to make ends meet. Though the court sentenced Hardik to life imprisonment, Kajal believes she can never forget what she had to endure.

Kanpur trader sent to 14-day judicial custody

NAMITA BAJPAI @ Lucknow

KANPUR-based businessman Piyush Jain was sent to jail on a 14-day remand by Kanpur magistrate Yogita Kumar on Monday.

The sleuths of the Ahmedabad unit of Directorate General of GST Intelligence (DGGI) arrested Jain on Sunday under Section 67 of CGST Act, following the recovery of ₹284 crore from his Kanpur and Kannauj residences. The searches continued on Monday as well.

As the DGGI team sought Jain's remand, the court ordered to send him to jail under Section 132 of the CGST Act, confirmed the Special Public Prosecutor, Amrish Tandon.

According to the DGGI sources, the searches, which started on Friday, led to the seizure of unaccounted cash to the tune of ₹177.45 crore from Jain's Anandnagar house in Kanpur and over ₹107 crore from his ancestral house in Kannauj, the city of perfumes. However, the DGGI team is yet to confirm the recovered amount.

The raiding agency claimed that Jain had admitted that cash recovered from his premises was related to the sale of goods without payment of taxes. However, the DGGST team had got a case of tax evasion of ₹31.50 crore registered against the trader.

Names do the rounds for new Bihar chief secretary

With four days left for incumbent Chief Secretary Tripurari Sharan's (pic) term to come to an end on December 31, hectic lobbing for the top post has started in the state's political circles. Development commissioner Amir Subhani (1987-batch) is among the front runners for the coveted post. His senior, Sanjeev Kumar Sinha (1986-batch), is currently posted as chairman-cum-member of the revenue board. A total of 12 officers are in the additional chief secretary rank and one of them is to be selected as the successor to Sharan. Rajesh Bhushan and Atul Prasad (also from 1987-batch) are stated to be in the race.

C.	Net (Deficit) (A-B)	(718.21)	(305.62)	(403.31)

1. Average Cost of Supply Rs.8.86 / unit. (includes deficit of FY21)
2. Average Realization Rate from the existing tariff charges Rs.7.54 / unit.
3. Thus deficit per unit works out to Rs.1.33 / unit.

4.0 Highlights of MESCOM Proposal:

i. Since MESCOM is unable to meet its revenue requirements through the current tariff charges an upward revision of tariff at an average rate of Rs.1.33/unit is proposed for the financial year FY23. The proposed average tariff increase includes increase in fixed / demand charges and this is inevitable to ensure collection of at least 34% of fixed costs of MESCOM. The proposed tariff hike is different for different tariff categories.

ii. To approve to apply all the relevant charges as is being made applicable to OA / wheeling transactions of other than RE sources for the wheeling transactions of RE sources also.

iii. To determine the revised Cross Subsidy Surcharge and Additional Surcharge for the financial year FY23 with reference to the proposed Annual Revenue Requirement.

5.0 MESCOM is committed to provide better services to its consumers by way of various measures of improvement in the system network, reduction of distribution losses, reducing failure rate of distribution transformers etc.

6.0 The table below summarizes the existing and proposed tariff structure for various consumer categories.

7.0 Pursuant to Section 5 of KERC (Tariff) Regulations, 2000, it is hereby notified that the persons who are interested in filing their objections to the above petition may file the same with the Receiving Officer, Karnataka Electricity Regulatory Commission, #16C-1, Miller Tank Bed Area, Vashanthnagar, Bengaluru-560 052, in six sets, with a copy to the Superintending Engineer (Commercial), MESCOM, Corporate Office, 4th Floor, "MESCOM BHAVANA" Bejai, Kavoor Cross Road, Mangaluru-575 004, duly supported by an affidavit within 30 days from the date of this Notification. Further, the interested persons shall also indicate whether they want to be heard in person.

8.0 For reference of those who are interested, copies of the petition will be available for inspection at the following offices of MESCOM during working hours within 10 working days of publication of this Notification.

Probe launched after 'Sikh man' vows to kill Queen

Man who identified himself as Indian Sikh wants to avenge Jallianwala Bagh massacre

LONDON

A video has surfaced on social media in which a fully masked man, identifying himself as an Indian Sikh, is seen declaring to "assassinate" Queen Elizabeth II to avenge the 1919 Jallianwala Bagh massacre, prompting Scotland Yard to launch a probe, days after an intruder was arrested at the monarch's Windsor Castle.

The video, shared on Snapshot, is that of a fully masked man who identifies himself as Jaswant Singh Chail and declares that he wants to "assassinate" the monarch in revenge for the 1919 Jallianwala Bagh massacre, according to The Sun newspaper which obtained the video.

Meanwhile, the 19-year-old intruder, suspected of being the man in the video, is now being held over mental health issues. Scotland Yard officers were investigating the video reportedly linked to the intruder armed with a crossbow arrested at Windsor Castle on Christmas Day. The Metropolitan Police said that the arrested suspect has been sectioned under the UK's Mental Health Act after a mental health assessment and remains "in the care of medical professionals".

"I'm sorry. I'm sorry for what I've done and what I will do. I will attempt to assassinate Elizabeth, Queen of the Royal Family," the masked man is seen saying in the video.

"This is revenge for those who have died in the 1919 Jallianwala Bagh massacre. It is also revenge for those who have been killed, humiliated and discriminated on because of their race. I'm an Indian Sikh, a Sikh. My name was Jaswant Singh Chail, my name is Darth Jones," he says.

In the video clip posted on The Sun website, the 'Star Wars' film-like masked figure holds a shiny black weapon and speaks in a distorted voice.

It was reportedly sent to followers of the man's Snapchat account 24 minutes before armed security officers arrested him near the 95-year-old Queen's private apartments. In a message sent on Snapchat alongside the video, the teenager wrote: "I'm sorry to all of those who I have wronged or lied to. If you have received this then my death is near. Please share this with whoever and if possible, get it to the news if they're interested."

Police are also carrying out searches at a housing estate in Southampton, where the suspect reportedly lived with his family. PTI

Ferry owner arrested after deadly blaze

Bangladesh police on Monday arrested the owner of an overcrowded ferry that caught fire and killed at least 39 people last week, after investigators blamed the toll on a disregard for safety. The blaze broke out in the middle of the night on Friday when many of the ferry's 700 passengers were sleeping near the southern district of Barguna. Survivors relayed harrowing stories of having to jump into the Sugandha river from the three-storey ferry, which was only designed to carry 420 people. Most of the victims burnt to death while others drowned in frigid waters while trying to escape. Ferry owner Hum Jalal Sheikh was arrested Monday, the police told reporters, a day after a court issued an arrest warrant for eight people including the captain and crew of the Obhijaan-10.

Actor on junta's wanted list jailed for three years

A leading Myanmar actor, singer and model who was on a junta celebrity wanted list for supporting pro-democracy protests has been jailed for three years, his legal team said on Monday. Paing Takhon, 25 had been active in the mass protests that rocked the country following the February coup, at rallies and through his massive social media following. He was arrested during a dawn raid at his mother's home in Yangon in April, his sister said, as the junta hunted more than 100 celebrities for supporting the movement.

Travel restrictions on African countries lifted

Singapore has lifted the ban it imposed on 10 African countries over the Omicron variant of coronavirus, while authorities expect a rapid doubling of cases in the coming days. Passengers arriving in Singapore with travel history to Botswana, Eswatini, Ghana, Lesotho, Malawi, Mozambique, Namibia, Nigeria, South Africa and Zimbabwe within the past 14 days will come under the country's Category IV border measures from 11.59 pm on Sunday. Meanwhile, the Ministry of Health (MoH) said it expects a new wave of local cases "soon" given the higher transmissibility of the Omicron variant. "In the coming days and weeks, we should expect more community (local) cases and rapid doubling of cases. This is again a process we need to go through, in order to live with Covid-19," it said.

Sri Lanka shuts 3 foreign missions amid dollar crisis

COLOMBO

SRI Lanka announced on Monday the closure of three overseas diplomatic missions in a bid to save foreign currency reserves, as the country's central bank slapped tighter controls on dollars needed to finance essential imports.

The Sri Lankan High Commission (embassy) in Nigeria and consulates in Germany and Cyprus will be closed from January in the restructuring, the foreign ministry said.

"The restructuring is undertaken with a view to conserving the country's much needed foreign reserves and minimising expenditure related to maintenance of Sri Lanka's missions overseas," the ministry said in a statement.

The island's tourism-dependent economy was hammered by the pandemic and the government in March last year imposed a broad import ban to shore up forex reserves, triggering shortages of essential goods such as fuel and sugar.

Sri Lankan consulate in Cyprus

The closure of the three missions came on the same day the Central Bank of Sri Lanka tightened restrictions on foreign currency remittances received by locals.

It ordered all commercial banks to hand over a quarter of their dollar earnings to the government, up from 10 per cent.

This means banks will have even fewer dollars to give to private traders who are importing essential goods.

Sri Lanka had foreign reserves of just $1.58 billion at the end of November, down from $7.5 billion when President Gotabaya Rajapaksa took office in 2019. AFP

Lankan govt's nod must for foreigners to marry locals

COLOMBO

SRI Lanka has made it mandatory for foreigners to get a clearance from its defence ministry if they wish to marry locals due to national security reasons, a move criticised by the Opposition and civil groups.

The new law will come into effect from January 1, 2022.

Registrar General WMMB Weerasekera, in a circular dated October 18, said that the decision has been taken due to national security reasons.

According to the circular, relevant officials had discussed "the national security and issues can arise (sic) from the marriages between foreigners and Sri Lankans".

It said that a decision has been made to register such marriages only through the Additional District Registrars after obtaining a "security clearance report" relates to the foreign party. Criticising the move, leading Opposition legislator Harsha de Silva questioned: "What kind of discrimination is this". "How about security clearance for foreign nationals to hold cabinet ministerial portfolios...?" legislator Shanakiyan Rasamanickam tweeted. Sri Lankan President Gotabaya Rajapaksa held US citizenship until two years ago. His brother Basil, the finance minister, remains a dual citizen of the US and Sri Lanka.

Civil society personalities also questioned the circular on social media. The security clearance report will certify that the foreign party was free of being convicted for any offence during the last six months, the circular reads.

Government officials said that the move was important as to prevent locals from being duped by foreigners to marriages and to check the increasing numbers of drug peddling by foreigners marrying locals.

"We have seen some foreigners wanting to marry Sri Lankans here with ulterior motives like engaging in drug trafficking and money laundering," Weerasekara said.

N-talks: Iran insists on crude exports

Tehran: Iran insisted on Monday that the US and its allies promise to allow Tehran to export its crude as negotiations on restoring the tattered nuclear deal were to resume in Vienna. The remarks by Iranian Foreign Minister Hossein Amirabdollahian signal that Iran is pressing its position ahead of the negotiations over reviving the landmark 2015 nuclear deal. The talks have struggled to make headway and were adjourned earlier this month after a round marked by tensions over new demands from Tehran

Jean-Marc Vallée

Award-winning director of Dallas Buyers Club no more

LOS ANGELES

DIRECTOR and producer Jean-Marc Vallée, who won an Emmy for directing the hit HBO series Big Little Lies and whose 2013 drama Dallas Buyers Club earned multiple Oscar nominations, has died. He was 58.

His representative Bumble Ward said Sunday that Vallée died suddenly in his cabin outside Quebec City, Canada, over the weekend.

Vallée was acclaimed for his naturalistic approach to filmmaking, directing stars including Reese Witherspoon, Nicole Kidman, Amy Adams and Jake Gyllenhaal over the past decade. He directed Emily Blunt in 2009's The Young Victoria and became a sought-after name in Hollywood after Dallas Buyers Club, featuring Matthew McConaughey and Jared Leto, earned six Academy Awards nominations, including best picture.

He often shot with natural light and hand-held cameras and gave actors freedom to improvise the script and move around within a scene's location. The crew roamed up and down the Pacific Coast Trail to shoot Witherspoon in 2014's Wild.

"They can move anywhere they want," the Canadian filmmaker said of his actors in a 2014 interview with The Associated Press. "It's giving the importance to storytelling, emotion, characters. I try not to interfere too much. Often, the cinematographer and I were like, 'This location sucks. But, hey, that's life.'"

He re-teamed with Witherspoon to direct the first season of Big Little Lies in 2017, and directed Adams in 2018's Sharp Objects, also for HBO. AP

POLISH PREZ VETOES BILL THAT TARGETED U.S. FIRM

Polish President Andrzej Duda on Monday vetoed a controversial media ownership law that critics said was aimed at silencing the US-owned news channel TVN24

DISCOVERY INC. AMONG TARGETS

The bill, recently passed by the lower house of parliament, would have prevented any non-European entity from owning more than a 49% stake in television or radio broadcasters in Poland

Its practical effect would have targeted only one existing company, Discovery Inc, forcing the US owner of Poland's largest private television network, TVN, to sell the majority or even all of its Polish holdings

> I refuse to sign the radio and television law amendment and am sending it back to parliament to be re-examined. This means that I am vetoing it
> Andrzej Duda, Poland president

BIGGEST AMERICAN INVESTMENT IN POLAND

The TVN network was first bought by another US company, Scripps Networks Interactive, for $2 billion and later sold to Discovery

It represents the largest ever American investment in Poland and the company now puts TVN's value at $3 billion

PRESSURE ON PRESIDENT

The US charge d'affaires in Warsaw had called on Duda to veto the bill, saying the US was "extremely disappointed" by the legislation

"We expect President Duda to act in accordance with previous statements to use his leadership to protect free speech and business," Aliu said earlier

GOVT CITES NATIONAL SECURITY RISKS

Polish government leaders pushed the legislation and argued that it was important for national security and sovereignty to ensure that no company outside of Europe can control companies that help form public opinion.

Yet many Poles saw the bill, pushed by the ruling Law and Justice party that Duda is aligned with, as an attempt to silence a broadcaster with an all-news station, TVN24, and an evening news program on its main channel viewed by millions.

Mass nationwide protests were recently held in support of the station and of freedom of speech more broadly.

Pakistan approves new National Security Policy

ISLAMABAD

PAKISTAN'S top security panel on Monday approved its National Security Policy for 2022-26, placing "economic security at the core" of the first-of-its kind document to ensure a "citizen-centric approach to security".

The policy was presented and approved at the 36th meeting of the National Security Committee (NSC), chaired by Prime Minister Imran Khan and attended by the Chairman Joint Chiefs of Staff Committee and all Services Chiefs.

National Security Advisor (NSA) Moeed Yusuf, presenting the document, said Pakistan was shifting to a Comprehensive National Security Framework — the ultimate purpose of it being safety, security and dignity of citizens.

This is the first time a National Security Policy has been approved in Pakistan. "To ensure this citizen-centric approach to security, the NSP put economic security at the core. A stronger economy would create additional resources that would in turn be judiciously distributed to further bolster military and human security,' according to a statement by the Prime Minister's Office.

Federal Ministers for Foreign Affairs, Defence, Information, Interior, Finance and Human Rights as well as other senior civil and military officers were also present at the NSC meet.

The NSP has been created through a whole-of-government effort over the last seven years, and included extensive consultations among federal government institutions, with all provinces, and with the academia and private sector, NSA Yusuf said at the meet.

It was highlighted that a detailed implementation framework had been created through which the National Security Division would review progress in collaboration with relevant ministries and departments.

Imran Khan

The NSC members, while approving the NSP, appreciated the National Security Division and all other government departments for this effort.

PM Khan, on the occasion, emphasised that the security of Pakistan rests in the security of its citizens, reposing confidence that Pakistan is well prepared to meet any internal and external threat.

Terming the NSP's formulation and approval a historic moment, the prime minister noted that the policy must guide all organs of the government to ensure that their efforts are synchronised with the overall direction of the NSP. PTI

UAE issues civil marriage contract for non-Muslims

ABU DHABI

The UAE issued its first civil marriage license for a non-Muslim couple, state media reported on Monday, as the Gulf country seeks to keep its edge over regional competitors.

The United Arab Emirates — where foreigners make up 90 per cent of the population — has been amending its laws to present itself as a modernising force in a largely conservative region.

The official WAM news agency said a Canadian couple were the first to marry under a new law on the personal status of non-Muslims in the Emirati capital Abu Dhabi.

The move "contributes to the consolidation of Abu Dhabi's position as a world leading destination for skills and expertise from around the world," WAM said. Civil marriage in West Asia, the birthplace of Islam, Christianity and Judaism, is uncommon and usually conducted under a religious authority of one of the three monotheistic beliefs.

Civil marriages are allowed in Tunisia and Algeria.

While some countries in the region allow civil unions based on certain conditions, some only recognise civil marriages conducted abroad and others not at all. AFP

Malaysia govt faces flak over slow clean-up after floods

SHAH ALAM

MALAYSIA'S government was under fire on Monday as residents accused it of responding too slowly after the country's worst floods in years.

Days of torrential rain caused rivers to overflow last week, swamping cities, forcing tens of thousands of people to flee their homes.

Damaged appliances and soaked furniture were piled up on the streets and outside homes in flood-hit areas as residents and volunteers continued a massive clean-up drive.

Many were frustrated with the authorities.

"I am angry. There is no assistance from the government... We need cash to rebuild our lives," said Asniyati Ismail, who lives in a residential enclave in Shah Alam, the capital of Selangor state.

"There is mud everywhere, everything has been destroyed," she told AFP as her two children helped her clean.

The mounds of rubbish left in the area after the floods have also sparked fear of disease outbreaks.

Selangor, which encircles the Malaysian capital Kuala Lumpur, was the state hit hardest by the floods.

Many in Shah Alam were left stranded in their homes with barely any food for days, before being evacuated on boats in a chaotic rescue operation.

"The government has been absolutely slow in the rescue mission," resident Kartik Rao told AFP.

"And now they are slow in the clean-up operation. Even after seven days, the rubbish in this neighbourhood has not been cleaned up."

Prime Minister Ismail Sabri Yaakob has admitted "weaknesses" in the flood response, but has pledged improvements in future.

Malaysia is hit by floods annually during the monsoon season, from November to February, but the ones this month were the worst since 2014.

They have left at least 48 people dead and five missing across Malaysia, officials said. Global warming has been linked to worsening floods. AFP

No alarming fund outflow at RBL, says bank official

RBI allays depositors' concern over unexpected leadership change

RAM SAHGAL @Mumbai

THE Reserve Bank of India's (RBI) clarification to allay depositor panic on the unexpected leadership change at RBL Bank and appointment of an additional director by it to the bank's board seems to have provided some reprieve to the lender.

An RBL Bank official requesting anonymity told TNIE that shortly after the RBI statement, "....some large -ticket fund withdrawal requests were cancelled. Fund outflow today though elevated was not alarming."

The official added that a war room to address depositor queries had been set up and that greater clarity on depositor drawdowns would emerge by the end of the day.

"The Reserve Bank would like to state that the bank is well capitalised and the financial position of the bank remains satisfactory," the regulator said in a press release on Monday. The RBI noted that the bank had a "comfortable" capital adequacy ratio of 16.33% and a liquidity coverage ratio well in excess of the regulatory requirement.

"Further, it is clarified that appointment of additional director/s in private banks is undertaken under Section 36AB of the Banking Regulation Act, 1949 as and when it is felt that the board needs closer support in regulatory/supervisory matters," the statement said.

The carnage on RBL's stock abated somewhat post the RBI statement. The stock, which tumbled almost 25% to a 52-week low of ₹130.2, recovered to close down 18% at ₹141.6.

However, investor sentiment for now remains bearish given RBI's appointment of an additional director to the bank's board and negative commentary by brokerages. Motilal Oswal placed the bank's rating under review on doubts of a turnaround in its operating performance. Emkay cut the target price to ₹165 from ₹215, given lower RoE of 8-10% over FY23-24E vs 9-11% earlier.

The bank reported slippages of ₹1,200 crore in the second quarter of FY22 (Apr-Mar). The gross non-performing and net non-performing asset ratios rose 41 basis points (one basis point is one hundredth of a percentage point) and 13 basis points quarter on quarter to 5.4% and 2.14%. However, high provisioning enabled a healthy provision coverage ratio of 62%.

Total restructured loans stood at around ₹2,100 crore (3.7% of loans) with 79% in retail and the balance in corporate, noted Motilal Oswal. The bank has created provisions of ₹260 crore on its restructured portfolio and carries additional Covid related provisions of ₹130 crore.

However, the brokerage noted some silver linings with the management focusing on "improving granularity, raised equity capital to prepare for any exigencies and also increased the proportion of the retail business, which aided improvement in several key operating metrics like CAR, LCR of 155% ....an improved CASA ratio at 35.3%, up 880 bps over the past two years."

The bank announced over the weekend that its MD and CEO Vishwavir Ahuja had resigned (six months before his term ended) and that Rajeev Ahuja had been appointed in his place on an interim basis. The RBI has appointed its CGM Yogesh Dayal as an additional director to RBL's board for two years.

The Street had recently turned cautious on RBL Bank due to asset quality concerns with unsecured loans accounting for 31% of its book.

AI handover to Tata delayed till Jan '22

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU
@New Delhi

TATA Group's takeover of national carrier Air India is likely to be delayed by a month as the completion of procedures is taking longer than expected. Tatas, which won the bid for the airline in October '21, was supposed to get the ownership of the airline by December this year but now it is pushed to late January 2022.

"Some regulatory approvals are yet to come in for the handover, and certain formalities are yet to be completed... The process will most likely be completed by January," said an official requesting anonymity.

The government, after a failed attempt in 2018, had signed the share purchase agreement with Tata Sons in October for the sale of loss-making Air India for ₹18,000 crore. It was agreed that the Tatas would pay ₹2,700 crore cash and takeover ₹15,300 crore of the airline's debt.

As of August 31, Air India had a total debt of ₹61,562 crore. Out of this, 75% of this debt or ₹46,262 crore will be transferred to a special purpose vehicle before handing over to the Tata Group which had started the airline way back in 1930s.

Tata Sons Chairman N Chandrasekaran recently called the group winning the bid for Air India as its most significant milestone in 2021.

Meanwhile, oil marketing company Indian Oil (IOC) said that Air India has cleared around 80% of its pending dues to oil marketing companies. IOC has received ₹2,281 crore from Air India.

IOC added that the balance settlement is under process for which modalities have been initiated in view of the handing over process of Air India.

Home prices see maximum hike in Hyderabad, Chennai; slide in Delhi

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU

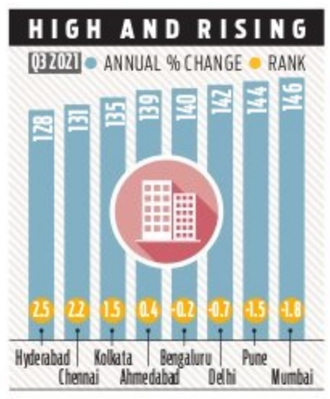
SOUTHERN cities of Hyderabad and Chennai witnessed the highest appreciation in residential project prices amongst major Indian cities in the third quarter of 2021 (Q3CY2021) followed by Kolkata and Ahmedabad, according to a Knight Frank report. Meanwhile, Bengaluru, Delhi, Pune and Mumbai witnessed fall in home prices during the quarter on an annualised basis.

Hyderabad was positioned at 128th rank on Knight Frank's Global Residential Cities Index with 2.5% year-on-year rise in home prices. On domestic level, Hyderabad recorded the highest appreciation. Chennai ranked 2nd amongst Indian cities and 131st globally with price appreciation of 2.2%.



Kolkata ranked 135th and Ahmedabad at 139th on the global index with a price appreciation of 1.5% and 0.4% respectively in the residential asset class. Mumbai was the lowest-ranked Indian city at 146th on the index, registeringa decline of 1.8% in home prices.

Among the other Indian cities that have seen marginal decline in home prices were Bengaluru, at the 140th spot with a decline of 0.2% YoY, followed by Delhi at 142nd rank with a decline of 0.7% YoY and Pune ranked 144th with a fall of 1.5% YoY. This trend comes amid concerns that real estate prices will see a major hike next year due to steep rise in raw material cost. Many developers in past one-two months have hinted that if prices of cement and steel are not controlled, home prices may soar as much as 15% in near future.

Shishir Baijal, Chairman & MD, Knight Frank India, said, "Developments in the pricing dynamics will depend on the future demand. Factors like interest rates, impact of Omicron and inflationary pressures, amongst others will determine buyer sentiments."

Trade body urges govt to defer tax hike

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU
@New Delhi

THE Confederation of All India Traders (CAIT) on Monday urged Finance Minister Nirmala Sitharaman for the deferment of the implementation of the government notification that proposes increasing the GST rate from 5% to 12% on textiles and footwear.

The domestic traders' body in a letter said it is illogical and beyond the canon of GST tax structure "particularly at a time when domestic trade is on the verge of recovery from the colossal damage caused due to last two spells of the Covid".

"There was no tax on textile/fabrics for a number of years. Bringing the textile industry again under the tax net itself was a big blow to the entire textile Industry," the letter to the FM said. The decision to hike GST was taken at the 45th meeting of the GST Council held in September.

Voicing similar concerns, West Bengal's former Finance Minister Amit Mitra on Friday called the decision to increase GST in the textile sector "very dangerous". he said it would result in the closure of about one lakh textile units and result in 15 lakh job losses in the textile and ancillary sectors.

FM to discuss budget, capex with states this week

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU @New Delhi

FINANCE Minister Nirmala Sitharaman is likely to meet state finance ministers this week to review the status of Capital expenditure and their financials ahead of the budget.

According to sources in the Finance Ministry, the meeting will be to discuss the status of financials, capex and broad budgetary issues or demand.

"The main focus of the meeting will be on the capital expenditure and financials of the states. Many states are yet to complete the capex target. FM has done similar review in past also. As the budget making process is already on, she will also discuss their inputs and suggestions on broader issues like taxation, duty or sector specific suggestion," a finance ministry official said.

For the current financial year, the finance ministry had fixed the capex target for states at ₹5.79 lakh crore for 2021-22. While the centre is confident to achieve the target, there are many states which are lagging behind substantially. This target for the Centre is set at ₹5.54 lakh crore to be spent in the current financial year, an increase of 34.5% over last year. In FY 2020-21, the Centre's capex saw increase of 26% over last year, yet it was just 8% of the gross fixed capital formation.

In the first half of FY22, the government overall spent ₹16.26 lakh crore, which is 46.7% of the full-year budget target. On an average in the last five years, the spending in the first half usually stands at 52.2% of the budgeted estimates.The total spending of the government in 2021-22 is estimated at ₹34.83 lakh crore.

Finance ministry is aggressively pushing for PSUs and state government to increase their capital expenditure to boost the economy.

LAGGING BEHIND THE TARGET

For current financial year, finance ministry had fixed capex target for states at `5.79 L cr for 2021-22. While centre is confident to achieve the target, there are many states which are lagging behind substantially

Govt to handover legacy coal mines to World Bank for rehabilitation

RAKESH KUMAR @New Delhi

THE government is all set to hand over ten to fifteen abandoned coal or legacy mines to the World Bank under the mine closure framework by the end of this year. These mines fall in the regions of Eastern coalfields limited, Bharat Coking Coal Limited, Central Coalfields Limited and Western Coalfields Limited.

As per an official, the World Bank is itself interested in these legacy mines and is ready to give a financial assistant for the rehabilitation.

"The offer for the financial assistant to the abandoned mines came from the World Bank. It is under the consideration of the Coal Ministry. As the ministry can't take a suo moto decision on it, it has sent the proposal to the Finance Ministry for approval," said the official.

The ministry has prepared a Preliminary Project Report (PPR) for engagement with the World Bank submitted to the Finance Ministry for approval. Inter-Ministerial consultations have also been made with Ministries concerned and NITI Aayog to obtain their views and suggestions.

Coal mining in India had started long back, and coalfields are replete with several legacy mines remaining unused for long. Mines are closing and will close in future also due to reasons such as exhaustion of reserves, adverse geomining conditions, safety issues etc. Therefore, the Mine closure guidelines were first introduced in 2009, re-issued in 2013 and are still evolving.

The ministry is working on a robust mine closure framework.

We believe that L&T is poised for a strong earnings growth momentum, if and when the order inflow gains momentum. The company has some more asset monetisation opportunities to capitalise on, including the sale of Nabha Power, a stake sale in L&T IDPL, and monetisation of the Hyderabad Metro. We estimate an FY21–24E EPS CAGR of 23%, driven by a 15% CAGR in the core E&C business and reducing losses from the Hyderabad Metro. L&T remains the best play on the capex cycle in India. We Maintain Buy.

Goel PNB's MD; hunt is on for Union Bank CEO

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU
@New Delhi

THE Appointments Committee of the Cabinet (ACC) has approved name of Atul Kumar Goel, who is currently Managing Director and CEO for UCO Bank as office on special duty in Punjab National Bank.

"The order will come into effect from the date of assumption of the said office till 31.01 .2022 and as Managing Director and Chief Executive Officer, Punjab National Bank, vice Shri Ch. S.S. Mallikarjuna Rao, with effect from 01.02.2022 and up to the date of his attaining the age of superannuation (i.e. 31.12.2024), or until further orders, whichever is earlier," the official letter from ACC said.

The ACC has also cleared name of Soma Sankara Prasad, currently Deputy Managing Director, State Bank of India, as Managing Director and Chief Executive Officer in UCO Bank, with effect from the date on which Atul Kumar Goel demits the same.

Meanwhile the Banks Board Bureau (BBB), the designated headhunter for state-owned banks and financial institutions, has invited applications for the post of managing director and chief executive director of Union Bank of India for a three-year term. Currently Rajkiran Rai G is holding the post of MD and CEO but he is set to retire on May 2022.

5G services to come in metro cities first: Govt

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU
@New Delhi

METROS and big cities would be the first places for the launch of 5G services in the country next year, said the Department of Telecommunications on Monday. The ministry informed that its indigenous 5G Test bed project funded by DoT has reached its final stage and it is likely to be completed by December 31, 2021.

"Telecom Service Providers (TSPs) -- Bharti Airtel, Reliance Jio and Vodafone Idea -- have established 5G trials sites in Gurugram, Bengaluru, Kolkata, Mumbai, Chandigarh, Delhi, Jamnagar, Ahmadabad, Chennai, Hyderabad, Lucknow, Pune, Gandhi Nagar cities. These metros and big cities would be the first places for the launch of 5G services in the country next year," said DoT in a statement.

The 5G Test bed project costs the government ₹224 crore. The project involved eight implementing agencies including IIT Bombay, IIT Delhi, IIT Hyderabad, IIT Madras, IIT Kanpur, IISC Bangalore, SAMEER and CEWiT,.

Amazon Web Services to focus on nurturing women-led start-ups

UMA KANNAN @Bengaluru

AMAZON Web Services (AWS), a subsidiary of Amazon Inc and a cloud computing services provider, would continue to focus on nurturing start-ups especially those led by women through various masterclasses and VC connections in 2022.

Laying down the road map for 2022, Kumara Raghavan, Head - AWS Startup Sales Segment- India, Amazon Internet Services, told TNIE the company will continue its focus on women-funded start-ups.

He cited the four-week virtual programme - Techxelerate -- by AWS ID&E (Inclusion, Diversity & Equity) and the Indian Women Institutional League (IWIL) to empower female- led tech start-ups in India. "The programme helps women build, grow, and scale their venture right at the early stages of their journey, and connects them with mentors, investors and industry experts and leaders," Kumara Raghavan said

The programme helps women build, grow, and scale their venture right at the early stages of their journey, and connects them with mentors, investors and industry experts and leaders

K RAGHAVAN, Head - AWS Startup Sales

AWS will also continue its focus on building partner success, including venture investors, incubators, co-working spaces, and universities.

"We work with some of the leading start-ups in the fintech space such as Zerodha, Upstox, KreditBee, CashKaro, Zest Money, and CreditVidya. They are reshaping domains such as capital markets, digital payments, personal loans, and credit underwriting," Raghavan said.

AWS works with several healthcare organisations and start-ups in India such as HealthifyMe, 1MG, and KareXpert. "These firms provided innovative solutions in diagnostics, patient care, telemedicine, and vaccination drives. We are committed to investing in India and putting the power of AWS Cloud directly in the hands of customers," he said.

Raghavan said that more unicorns were created in 2021 than in all of the previous years put together. Also, another trend is that start-ups began to deliver on their potential by launching IPOs.

"The Freshworks IPO on NASDAQ and the Zomato IPO in India set the tone for several other successful IPOs, both in India and abroad. These two trends have had a compounding effect. Not only are there more funding opportunities, the average size of funding has increased. More early and mid-stage start-ups are getting funded than ever before," Raghavan said, adding that at AWS, they have engaged with many Indian SaaS start-ups such as Freshworks, Innovacer, MoEngage, Clevertap and Darwinbox.

Martial seeking Man United exit

Anthony Martial has told Manchester United he wants to leave, manager Ralf Rangnick said. The France forward has dropped down the pecking order at Old Trafford, making just two Premier League starts this season and only four in all competitions. Rangnick said he "spoke at length" with the 26-year-old Martial last week.

HIGH PERFORMANCE TEAM

Long-term planning, preparation behind Himachal Pradesh's historic Vijay Hazare success

VENKATA KRISHNA B @Chennai

Himachal Pradesh defeated Tamil Nadu in the Vijay Hazare Trophy final to clinch their first-ever domestic title across age groups | SPECIAL ARRANGEMENT

PREPARATION. Head coach Anuj Pal Das sums up in one word as to what led to Himachal Pradesh's maiden Vijay Hazare title triumph – their first in domestic cricket across all formats and age groups. As the Rishi Dhawan-led side was en route to Una, which is the gateway to Himachal Pradesh, Das was catching up on some lost sleep in the team bus, for the victory celebrations had run late into Monday morning after they defeated Tamil Nadu in the final in Jaipur.

From Una, the team will get a few days break before they assemble again in Dharamsala, the place where the seeds were sowed for Vijay Hazare triumph. Even as other teams were still finding ways to hold camps for cricketers in the wake of the second Covid wave, Himachal was among the exceptions. For a state that sees players spread out from different parts where commuting could be a hassle because of ever-changing weather patterns, the Himachal Pradesh Cricket Association didn't wait long to start the preparations. The planning started as early as July, with around 25 players told to assemble in Dharamsala, which has indoor facility and different practice pitches, where they underwent a hard quarantine before resuming the preparations. With the state having one of the best vaccination numbers, the job only made it a bit easier for the team.

"We were clear in our planning because in a terrain like Himachal it is hard for players to get proper training," Das said. "Our full focus in the initial period was to get them fully fit because with Covid protocols in place, it is tough to bring replacements. So we worked on their fitness by gradually increasing their workload because last season also was a short one. By August end, we were in full swing, even playing practice matches to make players ready," Das, who has been an assistant director of coaching at HPCA across various tenures added.

Apart from preparation, Das cites familiarity playing a huge role. Das — thanks to his long association with HPCA where he has coached the Under-16, Under-19, Under-23 and senior sides since starting as a coaching professional in 2004 — has worked with all the players at different age-groups. "I came to the senior team only during the pandemic, but these are familiar faces. So, even among the players, they had played with each other at some level. Be it the seniors or the newcomers. It was just like a college batch. Everyone knows what each one brings to the table. And during the preparations, instead of forcing anything on the team, we sat down and told them, the support staff will do what the team wants. I'd done enough of coaching to them. So, it was all but creating a good atmosphere and helping each other out."

The campaign started with a defeat to Vidarbha, a point where Das and Dhawan decided not to put pressure on players and take it one match at a time. With pitches in Mumbai during group stages being on the flatter side, Himachal batters found it easy to acclimatise, especially after practising on pitches in Dharamsala. "We had made it very challenging for the batters in Dharamsala. And by the time the camp ended, they had gotten better. So when they saw the pitches in Mumbai, they backed themselves to put good totals," Das added.

Chelsea keep pace with Man City

AFP @London

ROMELU Lukaku said Chelsea are "the hunters" of Manchester City in the title race after coming off the bench to score his first Premier League goal since September to help beat Aston Villa 3-1.

Reece James' own goal put Villa ahead, but Jorginho quickly levelled from the penalty spot in a clash between two of the many English sides hit by cases of coronavirus.

Lukaku was one of Chelsea's absentees due to a positive test for draws against Everton and Wolves last week that saw them lose ground in the title race.

But he made his return as a second half substitute and made an almost instant impact to head home Callum Hudson Odoi's cross. The Belgian's blistering run then won a second Chelsea penalty in stoppage time that Jorginho slotted home.

Thomas Tuchel's men move level on points with Liverpool (41), who have a game in hand, and back to within six of Manchester City (47), who were 6-3 winners over Leicester City earlier on Boxing Day.

Victory for Brighton

Neal Maupay struck a stunning goal against his former club as Brighton picked up a first Premier League win in 12 games by beating Brentford. Maupay sent an unstoppable effort into the top right corner in the 42nd minute after Leandro Trossard had already put Brighton in front.

Arsenal versus Wolves off

Arsenal's clash with Wolves, scheduled for December 28, became the 15th Premier League match postponed due to a coronavirus outbreak in recent weeks on Sunday.

DAY TWO WASHED OUT

Persistent rain through the course of the day and wet outfield meant that Day 2 of the first Test between India and South Africa was called off without a ball being bowled. India are 272/3 in their first innings with KL Rahul unbeaten on 122 | AP

ENGLAND was hit by Covid-19 dramas within its support staff on Monday before its batters sustained another top-order collapse at the Melbourne Cricket Ground as Australia moved within sight of a series-clinching victory in the Ashes. Australia was bowled out for 267 as the home side grabbed a first-innings advantage of 82 runs, before England struggled to 31-4 in its second innings at stumps on Monday.

England's James Anderson gave a masterful display, claiming the key wickets of Marcus Harris (76) and Steve Smith (16) in his tally of 4/33 off 23 overs.

But England's batters were soon under attack again. Mitchell Starc dismissed Zak Crawley, caught behind for 5, and Dawid Malan, leg before without scoring, in consecutive deliveries. Debutant Scott Boland (2-1) delighted his home crowd of 42,626 roaring fans by removing opener Haseeb Hameed for 7 and Jack Leach without scoring in the penultimate over of the day.

With Ben Stokes and Joe Root at the crease, England had lost four wickets after just 12 overs and still required another 51 runs to make Australia bat again. Earlier, Cricket Australia's chief executive Nick Hockley said there was no need to change current plans, which include staging the fourth and fifth tests in Sydney and Hobart, respectively.

There was a Covid-19 scare in the England camp ahead of day two. The start was delayed by 30 minutes to make sure that the players are cleared to play. Earlier, it was confirmed by CA and England and Wales Cricket Board that two support staff and two family members of the tourists were tested positive for Covid. Since the start of the pandemic, England's tours of South Africa and Sri Lanka were abandoned mid-tour due to Covid concerns. Australia lead the five-match series 2-0.

Brief scores: England 185 & 31/4 in 12 ovs (Starc 2/11, Boland 2/1) vs Australia 267 in 87.5 ovs (Harris 76; Anderson 4/33, Robinson 2/64).

Srihari aims for major high next year

TANMAY DAS @Bhubaneswar

IT has been a hectic two weeks or so for the swimmer Srihari Nataraj. After achieving three best Indian performances at the short course World Championships in Dubai, the backstroke specialist could not even return back to his hometown in Bengaluru due to professional commitments. He had to compete at the All India Inter University Nationals in KIIT University, with the four-day meet concluding on Saturday.

He reached the venue at around 1pm and featured for his Jain University team in the 4x200m relay, and won gold. Overall, the swimmer featured in six events, winning five gold and one bronze. Some of his timings in the competition are 50m backstroke (25.80s), 50m freestyle (23.42s), 100m freestyle (51.30) among others.

It was only on Monday evening that the swimmer finally landed in Bengaluru. But the swimmer is aware of the important year ahead, which includes the Asian Games, Commonwealth Games and the World Championships next year.

The youngster has set major goals in 2022. "Before the 2024 Olympics, my first target is Asian Games in September, where I want to win medals for my country. I had competed at the 2018 CWG, 2018 Asiad and 2019 Worlds by the age of 21. I am pretty aware of the co-competitors whom I am going to face in my upcoming international events," Srihari said. "After the Tokyo Olympics, me and my supporting coaching staff prepared a road map. I will move step-by-step to reach my dream timings of 51 sec or 51.05 seconds in the 100 metre backstroke event in the year 2022," said Srihari.

The Lumiere brothers' gift to the world of cinema

EXFILE • HISTORY

The cinema is an invention without any future, said two brothers around 120 years ago. In 2021, it is one of the most lucrative businesses, raking in hundreds of billions. The two brothers who made the ominous prediction are incidentally credited with the birth of cinema! As the world marks 126th anniversary of the first public exhibition of cinema today, let's recall their role

The brothers were pioneers; they had patented several significant processes leading up to their film camera

FILM PERFORATIONS
(Originally implemented by Emile Reynaud) as a means of advancing the film through the camera and projector

CINÉMATOGRAPHE
The brothers developed a three-in-one device that could record, develop, and project motion pictures and patented own version in 1895

LUMIÈRE AUTOCHROME
This was the first practical photographic colour process

Tricky position

The date of the recording of their first film is disputed. In an interview in 1948, Louis Lumière claimed that he shot the film in August 1894, before the arrival of the kinetoscope in France

This is questioned by historians, who consider that a functional Lumière camera did not exist before the beginning of 1895

The first screening

On March 22, 1895, the Lumières privately screened a single film, La Sortie de l'usine Lumière à Lyon. The Lumières gave their first paid public screening on December 28, 1895, at Salon Indien du Grand Café in Paris

Strictest curbs yet in Xi'an as outbreak peaks to 21-mth high

Civilian movement curtailed, with police and health officials in hazmat suits insisting on 'health pass'; Delta variant behind severe cases, officials say

COVID

BEIJING: The locked-down Chinese city of Xi'an on Monday tightened Covid-19 controls to the "strictest" level, banning residents from driving cars around town in an effort to control the country's worst outbreak in 21 months.

China has stuck to a "zero-Covid" strategy of tight border restrictions, lengthy quarantines and targeted lockdowns as Beijing prepares to welcome thousands of overseas visitors for February's Winter Olympics. But historic Xi'an -- where 13 million residents are facing their fifth day of home confinement -- is at the centre of a flare-up that has pushed nationwide daily infections to their highest numbers since March last year.

Restrictions tightened further on Monday as Xi'an announced it would impose the "strictest social control measures", according to a city government social media account. The northern city — home to the world-famous Terracotta Warriors — recorded 150 new cases on Monday, bringing the total to around 650 since December 9. No vehicles are allowed on the roads unless they are assisting with disease control work, the latest announcement said. Police and health officials will "strictly inspect" cars, and those who break the rules could face 10 days' detention and a fine of $78.

Two other cities in Shaanxi province also reported a case linked to Xi'an, as authorities urged migrant workers from the city not to travel home in the upcoming Chinese New Year holiday. The outbreak of the fast-spreading Delta variant has caused severe symptoms in four patients including a one-year-old child, the state-run Global Times tabloid reported. Since locking down the city last week, authorities have launched several rounds of mass testing and placed nearly 30,000 people in hotel quarantine. All non-essential businesses have been shuttered, while each household can only send out one person to buy necessities every three days.

The Xi'an government has come under fire for its perceived poor handling of the outbreak, with China's disciplinary body saying last week that 26 local officials had been punished for lapses in virus prevention. Authorities have strictly limited movement into and out of the city, with footage from state broadcaster CCTV on Sunday showing trucks waiting in line at road checkpoints as workers in hazmat suits checked health codes on drivers' mobile phones.

Meanwhile, Denmark and Iceland on Monday reported record daily coronavirus cases as the fast-spreading Omicron variant makes Europe the global hotspot for infections and deaths. Both Nordic nations had some of Europe's lowest infection rates before Omicron's arrival. Europe recorded the most cases and deaths in the past seven days, according to statistics compiled by AFP and drawn from official sources. The five countries with the highest case rates over the last seven days were all European.

Denmark's daily infection total exceeded 15,000 for the first time, with health authorities registering 16,164 Covid-19 cases in 24 hours.

FACT OF THE MATTER

Study says fish can count

RESEARCH

In most workplaces, spitting at computer terminals is regarded a faux pas, but not so for certain banded archerfish in a lab in Italy. Experts from the University of Trento trained the fish — which use jets of water to capture prey — to spit at screens to show they can distinguish between numbers. Various previous studies have argued that like many birds and mammals, fish can count and have an innate sense of numbers. Yet these experiments have involved showing that fish will join the larger of two shoals, leading critics to argue they prove only a sense of size. The team controlled for these confounding factors by using dots of various sizes and relative positions and found fish can count.

Baidu testing metaverse

TECH

Chinese tech giant Baidu on Monday took its first steps into the metaverse industry with the launch of a virtual reality app, looking to test the waters in what is considered by many to be the next phase in the internet's evolution. The Beijing-based company joins brands such as Nike and Ferrari in rushing to experiment with virtual goods against a backdrop of predictions that the metaverse could one day overtake and replace the web of today. The firm, nicknamed the Chinese Google, held a conference inside the virtual world of its new app XiRang, which means "Land of Hope". It can be accessed from a smartphone, computer or through VR goggles.

Webb's gimbaled antenna active

SPACE

Hours after the $10 billion James Webb Space Telescope was launched on Christmas Day, NASA confirmed that the gimbaled antenna assembly had been successfully deployed. It confirmed the news on Twitter, writing: "Hello Webb? It's us, Earth! Our team just deployed the gimbaled antenna assembly, which includes Webb's high-data-rate dish antenna. This antenna will be used to send at least 28.6 Gbytes of data down from the observatory, twice a day." The release of the antenna began after 15:00 GMT on Dec 26. NASA confirmed the temperature sensors and strain gauges on the telescope were successfully activated for the first time. The new telescope's special orbital path will keep it in constant alignment with Earth as the planet and telescope circle the sun in tandem. The project, which started in 1996, is an international collaboration led by NASA in partnership with the European and Canadian space agencies. It had been hit by months of launch delays.

Mauritius oil spill: Ship captain gets jail

CONSERVATION

PORT LOUIS: The captain and first mate of a freighter that crashed into a coral reef off Mauritius, unleashing the Indian Ocean archipelago's worst environmental disaster, were sentenced to 20 months in jail on Monday.

"The court took into consideration the fact that both defendants pleaded guilty and apologised. The sentence handed down is 20 months in prison," said magistrate Ida Dookhy Rambarrun. The MV Wakashio, a Japanese-owned but Panamanian-flagged vessel, ran aground in July 2020, spilling more than 1,000 tonnes of toxic fuel into pristine waters, coating mangroves, corals and other fragile ecosystems.

The vessel's captain, Sunil Kumar Nandeshwar, who was convicted by a court in the capital Port Louis last week, admitted drinking during an onboard birthday party. He and first officer, Hitihanillage Subhoda Janendra Tilakaratna, were found guilty of "endangering safe navigation".

"The captain and his second in command were irresponsible and did not deliver as they should on their 'navigational duties'," the magistrate said on Monday. The MV Wakashio was sailing from Singapore to Brazil with 3,800 tonnes of fuel oil and 200 tonnes of diesel onboard when it ran into the reef off the southeast coast of Mauritius.

During the trial, the captain said he had given instructions to approach Mauritian waters in order to gain access to a mobile phone network so that crew members could contact their families. "The sea was bad, but the visibility was clear and it was safe to navigate," Nandeshwar said.

"Since I had had a few drinks, it did not seem worthwhile to intervene and it did not occur to me that we were sailing that close." The two men were taken into custody in August 2020. The accident occurred near two ecologically critical sites: Blue Bay and Pointe D'Esny. In the days after the accident, thousands of volunteers marshalled along the coast wearing rubber boots and gloves, scrubbing rocks and stringing together makeshift cordons to contain the oily tide.

Microplastics can cause gut diseases: Study

MEDICINE

New research from China suggests microplastic fragments could cause inflammatory bowel disease (IBD) – a group of disorders that cause chronic pain and swelling in the intestines. The experts found that people with IBD have 1.5 times more microplastics in their faeces, suggesting the fragments could be related to the disease process.

It's thought that more microplastics in the gut may cause IBD or makes the disease worse, but it's currently unclear exactly how. Microplastics are already known to infiltrate our food, bottled water and even the air. According to recent estimates, people consume tens of thousands of microplastic particles each year.

Microplastics can cause intestinal inflammation, gut microbiome disturbances and other problems in non-human animals, so the researchers wondered if they could also contribute to IBD.

CLIMATE WOES

Vagaries of weather: Top 10 disasters cost world $170 billion

STUDY

NEW DELHI: Ten of the most expensive extreme weather events cost $170 billion or more in 2021, according to a global report on climate change economic and human loss released on Monday. Hurricane Ida, which struck the US in August, tops the list, with an estimated cost of USD 65 billion followed by European floods racked up USD 43 billion in losses in July. Floods, cyclones and drought also killed and displaced millions across the globe in places which have done little to cause climate change.

A new report by Christian Aid, Counting the cost 2021: a year of climate breakdown identifies 15 of the most destructive climate disasters of the year.

While the report focuses on financial costs, which are usually higher in richer countries because they have higher property values and can afford insurance, some of the most devastating extreme weather events in 2021 hit poorer nations, which have contributed little to causing climate change.

Some of the disasters in 2021 hit rapidly, like Cyclone Yaas, which struck India and Bangladesh in May and caused losses valued at USD 3 billion in just a few days. Other events took months to unfold, like the Paraná river drought in Latin America, which has seen the river, a vital part of the region's economy, at its lowest level in 77 years and impacted lives and livelihoods in Brazil, Argentina and Paraguay.

"Four of the ten most costly events took place in Asia, with floods and typhoons costing a combined US 24 billion. But the impact of extreme weather was felt all over the world. Australia suffered floods in March which displaced 18,000 people and saw damage worth USD 2.1 billion while floods in Canada's British Colombia led to USD 7.5 billion in damage and 15,000 people having to flee their homes," said the report.

Worryingly such climate devastation is set to continue without action to cut emissions. Insurers warn that 2021 is expected to be the sixth time global natural catastrophes have crossed the USD 100 billion insured loss threshold. All six have happened since 2011 and 2021 will be the fourth in five years. ENS

SHAPE OF ART

From theatre artistes struggling to make ends meet to art works being converted into NFTs (non-fungible tokens); from the closure of the 73-year-old Bengali Association to cancelled standup comic shows...here's all that transpired in the culture scene of 2021, writes Sanath Prasad

A still from Dastak

ART'S NEW AVATAR

2021 spelt good news for artists. Non-Fungible Tokens (NFT) are now an alternative model of business that is picking pace in India. Bengaluru-based artist Raghava KK equates this with the 'birth of the internet'. "The last two years before 2021 were quite disappointing for me, however, this year turned out to be a revolution. I have been dreaming about NFTs for the past six years, and it came to fruition when my tokenised art piece, The Orgasm Project, auctioned for a record price of $94,500 at Sotheby's. I am already working on the second phase of the project and I believe this alternative model that turns artists into currency and helps to reach out to their fans directly, comes with voluminous economic gains," says Raghava.

Meanwhile, Museum of Art and Photography (MAP), Bengaluru, a private museum, has seen an amalgamation of hits and misses in the art scene. As they welcomed 2021, the museum also adapted to the virtual form, therefore going completely digital this year. From curating programmes like 'Museum Without Borders' to engaging youngsters in understanding the shared culture heritage, MAP focused on interactive programmes. Kamini Sawhney, director of MAP, says, "We did not want to be the dominant voice on what kind of art programmes we want to curate, but went in tune with what our audience believed was interesting. We did not task any artist with a project, but left it to them to come up with a proposal."

IN THE EVENT

The pandemic was harsh on event managers too. According to Amit Singla, president of Karnataka Event Management Association (KEMA), over 60% of shows were either cancelled or postponed due to the second wave of the pandemic. The entire set of event members, right from artistes to logistic personnel, were on tenterhooks, which pushed KEMA to organise one of the biggest virtual events called Togetherness Project. "The scope for organsing large musical events still stands dim, however, we are working on a hybrid model to keep the cultural space alive," says Singla, who also hosted Sidhartha Mallya when he released his first book, If I'm Honest.

Talking of events, standup comics were the central focus with Vir Das' poem on 2 Indias creating a furore. In addition, Kunal Kamra and Munawar Faruqui's shows were cancelled in Bengaluru with the latter announcing his decision to quit comedy after death threats and vandalism.

DRAMATIC TWISTS

It was nearing the end April 2021, and theatre practitioner Zafer Mohiuddin learns that four of his plays in Bengaluru stand cancelled due to the lockdown caused by the second wave of Covid-19. Four plays, one story but multiple artistes bore the brunt of the pandemic. Mohiuddin, founder of Kathputliyan Theatre Group, points out that 2021 has handed him one of the most disappointing responses in his 40-year theatre career. "Dastak, a collection of three short plays, was staged at Alliance Française de Bangalore in December and witnessed only 30 per cent attendance. It is the lowest turnout I have ever seen for my plays. The fear to step out is back thanks to the rise in Omicron cases," says Mohiuddin, adding that the livelihood of production crew–lightmen, technicians, stage managers, make-up artistes – has been wiped away.

However, theatre practitioner Prakash Belawadi believes that he delivered on of his best theatre works this year in Parva, an eight-and-a-half-hour play. "It was one of the most elaborate theatre works of my life, which concluded just before the deadly second wave hit. The uncertainty of the pandemic is indeed frustrating but the hope of performing artistes to put an act together for a community is still alive. We should return to intimate theatre experiences," says Belawadi.

END OF AN ERA

The cultural scene in Bengaluru took a back seat when the 73-year-old Bengali Association in Bengaluru did not host its annual Durga Puja this year due to an organisational crisis. What evolved over several decades and many generations seems to have died down, depriving Bengalureans of their decades-long tie with the association. "Our aim was to keep the cultural space in the city alive. However, it is unfortunate that the generations to come will be deprived of a major cultural space. The road to revive the association is marred with many obstacles," says Vishwarup Ray, member of the association.

Thought for food

From Maggi milkshake to specialised plant-based delicacies, the year 2021 witnessed some new food trends. Take a look

ANILA KURIAN

IT'S safe to say that the food dynamics in the last two years have changed a lot thanks to the pandemic. We've seen the rise and fall of many food spaces and there's been a drastic change in the way people want to consume food now. In fact, food became a coping mechanism for many during the pandemic. Here are some of the most prominent food trends of 2021.

SOCIAL MEDIA TRENDS

The food trends of 2021 are incomplete without highlighting some of the quirky social media trends. While the lockdown in 2020 started with Dalgona coffee, this year saw a bunch of bizarre food trends. Combos like Maggi milkshake, Butter Chicken Pani Puri, Chocolate Maggi and Ferrero Rocher Manchurian topped the list.

2021 DOWNLOADING

COOK TO CHEF

In 2021, Bengaluru saw many home cooks partnering with companies or starting their own delivery services through Instagram and WhatsApp, and spreading the word to deliver home-cooked meals to foodies. Everything from regular meals to exotic desserts and international cuisines were being made by home cooks and sold this year.

VEGAN BOOM

Bengaluru witnessed a rise in the plant-based dining scene. Catering to the growing number were restaurants which started offering delicious options for non-meat eaters. Earlier, vegan options meant eating salads, beans, and a medley of vegetables prepared without much creativity. All this has changed in recent times with chefs preparing delicious dishes with mindfully-sourced ingredients that enhance flavours, add layers to the food, and provide a holistic culinary experience.

RETURN OF TRADITIONAL FOOD

When the second wave and subsequent lockdown hit, we were once again confined to our homes. Having picked up cooking as a hobby during the first lockdown, many decided to hone their skills further during the 2021 lockdown. Heirloom, traditional recipes became popular with many realising that there's more to Indian food than rice, dal and veggies.

DO-IT-YOURSELF KITS

With many still working from home, restaurateurs came up with do-it-yourself kits that were available for delivery. Ingredients were sent across and all the customer had to do was assemble it. This was a fun way for people to break away from their work schedules and whip up something quick.

AFTER HOURS

Dr Pramod Chinder, a bone cancer surgeon, is not just an avid biker but is also part of various biking groups which often takes off on trips to offbeat places

ALL FOR THE ROAD

MONIKA MONALISA

EVER imagined what doctors do when they are not saving lives? Well, Dr Pramod Chinder loves riding his motorbikes that he has collected over several years. Chinder, who is a bone cancer surgeon, has also done trips to the Himalayas and has extensively covered offbeat places across Karnataka, Tamil Nadu and Andhra Pradesh.

Chinder cannot exactly pinpoint as to when his passion for biking started. But he vaguely recollects that it was in Mangaluru, while doing his MBBS, that he began discovering bikes. "Somehow, I have thought of bikes as boys' toys. While I was in Mangaluru, a friend of mine, who is currently a retinal surgeon, used to go to garages to renovate bikes. For me, the passion for bikes intensified from here," says Chinder, who currently owns a Dukati, Harley Davidson, Suzuki Shogun, a 100 cc bike, Hero impulse and a vintage scooter, Vespa.

The 43-year-old surgeon adds that renovating bikes in the garage also helped him in developing his skills in medicine. "Renovating bikes gave me an innovative mindset and helped me come up with new things. It was all about jugaad," says Chinder, who is part of various biking groups.

I have surgeries that span anywhere between three and eight hours, depending on the complexities. So planning a trip is difficult for sure

Dr Pramod Chinder, surgeon

It might be difficult to imagine a doctor, who is a bone cancer surgeon, taking time off from his busy schedule to follow his passion for riding, but Chinder says he "somehow" manages it. "I have surgeries that span anywhere between three and eight hours, depending on the complexities. So planning a trip is difficult for sure. Once a month I make a trip from Bengaluru-Mangaluru-Shivamogga-Bengaluru.It helps me meet my parents as well as takes care of my passion," says Chinder, who has opened a specialty hospital in his village.

Ask him what bikes he plans to add to his collection, and he says he wants to have a garage of his own, where he can renovate bikes too. "Having expensive bikes does not mean you have more fun. I have done a trip to the Himalayas on a Suzuki Shogun, which is a 100 cc bike," says Chinder, who now does breakfast trips to satisfy his passion.

FIT BIT

GARBHA PINDASANA IN ARDHA PADMASANA

(EMBRYO IN THE WOMB POSE IN HALF LOTUS POSE)

It is an advanced asana requiring flexibility in the knees, hips and ankles. It is beneficial for pregnant women and may be practised through the first trimester. It is believed to help prepare the fetus for correct positioning at birth. This asana also purifies the liver and spleen, as the heels press into the abdomen and those organs. Spiritually, it activates the first three chakras — Muladhara, Svadisthana and Manipura. It also helps to bring spiritual union between one's mind and soul.

STEPS

- Come into Dandasana (Staff Pose) with legs straight in front of you and spine erect. Adjust your right leg so that it is on your left thigh.
- Use your hands to come into position. The idea is to arrange the top of the right leg into your left hip crease.
- Bend your left and rest the shin on the floor in a half-cross-leg position.
- Raise the crown of your head towards the ceiling and roll your shoulders away from your ears. Put your palms under your feet.
- Lift your knees towards your chest. Balance your whole body on the coccyx. Keep your eyes open or closed.
- The pose should be held for 10-30 seconds or for as long as you feel comfortable. Remember to balance your body properly.
- Leave this posture slowly. Then half-cross the legs the other way around and repeat the pose.

BENEFITS

- Reduces excess fat around lower abdomen, thighs, and hips.
- Your spine becomes strong and flexible.
- Improves flexibility in knees, ankles and hips.
- You get rid of stomach-related diseases like constipation, gas, etc.
- Improves blood circulation and helps to overcome the skin problem.
- Removes neck and shoulder pain.
- Very helpful in depression, anxiety and concentration increases.
- Provides spine relief, especially the lower spinal muscles.
- Strengthens the uterus and rectum.Improves the digestive system.

LIMITATIONS

- Unless you don't take care during practice, there is a risk of injury.
- Avoid this asana if ypu have neck and shoulder pain, injury in your hip and knee, problem with cervical and slip disc, etc.

JANUARY

VIRUSHKA JUNIOR ARRIVES

The year began with the most adored power couple, Virat Kohli and Anushka Sharma welcoming their child, Vamika, on January 12. The ace cricketer and actor, fondly called Virushka, got married in a private ceremony, in Tuscany, on December 11, 2017. Three years later, in August 2020, Sharma took to her Instagram handle to announce that the couple is expecting a baby in Jan '21. And in September, the caption of her Instagram post read, "Nothing is more real and humbling than experiencing the creation of life in you. When this is not in your control then really what is?"

FEBRUARY

THE BIG FAT BENGALURU WEDDING

After a quiet 2020, the second month of 2021 witnessed the first big fat Indian wedding on February 14. KPCC President DK Shivakumar's older daughter, Aishwarya, tied the knot with Amartya Hegde in a private ceremony. Hegde is the son of late Cafe Coffee Day founder VG Siddhartha, and the grandson of former CM of the state, SM Krishna. With about 800 guests, only close ones attended the extravaganza. The couple got engaged in November 2020 in a private hotel in the city. Fast forward to the wedding day, dressed in a red saree, Aishwarya stole the show with her traditional look.

MARCH

WHEN SUEZ CANAL WAS BANGALORE'D

The 193-km-long, 200-metre-wide Suez Canal — an artificial sea-level waterway — in Egypt got blocked after the Ever Given container ship (operated by Taiwanese company Evergreen Marine) was wedged across the waterbody on Tuesday. The canal links the Mediterranean and Red seas through Egypt and provides the shortest sea link between Asia and Europe. The 400-metre-long vessel (weighing around 200,000 tonnes) stuck across the canal had stranded hundreds of ships on either side and led to a massive 'traffic jam'. While it was feared that the incident would cause huge losses to the world economy, memes, jokes and even comparisons with Bengaluru's traffic-choked roads flooded the virtual space. Netizens said that the Suez Canal is 'Bangalore'd'. User Sahil Kapoor, wrote: "Suez Canal is the new Bangalore." Another user Mohamed Zeeshan tweeted, "I can totally imagine this happening to a BMTC bus in Bangalore, IRL. Suez Canal has got nothing on our potholed roads!"

APRIL & MAY

THE IPL FEVER

After several players tested positive as Covid cases surged, the Board of Control for Cricket in India (BCCI) suspended the 14th edition of the Indian Premier League. BCCI president Sourav Ganguly announced that the remainder of the IPL cannot be held in India. It began when two KKR players, Varun Chakravarthy and Sandeep Warrier tested positive for Covid-19 following which the match between Kolkata Knight Riders and Royal Challengers Bangalore was rescheduled. According to a report, the BCCI was contemplating shifting the remaining tournament to Mumbai. However, after the four-month long interruption, the league resumed on September 19 in UAE. The matches were held across Abu Dhabi, Sharjah, and Dubai.

JULY & AUGUST

BENGALURU TO TOKYO

Fouaad Mirza brought laurels to the city as he represented India in the Tokyo Olympics 2020. Mirza is India's third-ever entry in equestrian at the Olympics, after Indrajit Lamba's appearance in 1996 and Imtiaz Anees in 2000. He was one of the 25 from the field of 63 who qualified for the finals. Mirza and his horse Seigneur Medicott ended 23rd overall in eventing. The equestrian finished second and third with his horses, Seigneur Medicott and Dajara 4, respectively, at the Baborowko Equestrian Festival in Poland. These were the stepping stones for the confirmation of his participation at the Tokyo Olympics. Aditi Ashok and Srihari Nataraj were the other two Bengalureans who made it to the Summer Olympics.

SEPTEMBER

THE KING IS OFF THE THRONE

The Board of Control for Cricket in India (BCCI) announced that Virat Kohli decided to step down as India's T20 captain after the World Cup in November. The ace cricketer bowed from the captaincy of the Royal Challengers Bangalore (RCB) after IPL 2021. This has left many RCB fans disappointed because they wished that RCB win an IPL title atleast once under Kohli's captaincy.

Delegation of choice

I had a tough time writing this. A while ago, I was reading a post by a woman who works in a newsroom. She had written about how our own families inhibit our independence. My grandmother was a wonderful, talented musician and singer. After her marriage, if she sat down with her Veena or her Violin to practice, her mother-in-law, my great-grandmother, would start preaching about the role of a homemaker. My grandmother gave up and for many years, was lost in a maze of kitchen duties. Much later, only when her children moved out, she could afford to get back to music. By then, she had undergone a drastic change. After years of conditioning, it had become a habit for her to put others first.

Take a look around us. How many families wholeheartedly encourage all of their members to follow the path they have chosen? Many of us have made choices we never wanted to. But we cannot accuse our families of forcing these options on us. At the end of the day, it is our family. How is it possible to speak out against it?

A well-educated girl I know was getting married. The match seemed perfect. Both families got on well with each other. The only trouble was that the bride did not want to get married. A day before she left for the wedding, I asked her, "It's not too late. Why are you doing this?" She said, "My family has been planning my wedding for a long time. I cannot disappoint them."

The fear of losing our families is so strong that we are prepared to risk our own limits and harm ourselves. From our choice of extracurricular activities to our careers, our lifestyle, choosing our partner or our endeavours, we undergo 'conditioning' in various forms and levels. "It's all for your good!" – is what we end up believing. While praising the stalwarts who broke barriers, while telling our children stories of Seemollanghana – of Pandavas crossing the border on Vijayadashami to attain victory, we are so afraid of our children crossing the road.

When and how can we get what we want? We have been trained for years to hold everything in. We keep suffocating with the fear of being the black sheep of the family – until this fear breaks us from within – until we are left with nothing. Many of us may even deny it. "This is for our own good," some may argue. Going against the grain is like pushing the first piece of a domino combination. The whole system collapses.

An old friend of mine wrote on her wall about her struggle around her parents, obsessed with making and saving money. She spoke of untangling herself and building a life of her own. I could sense that she just wanted to speak out about it, without any desire for sympathy. "When and how do we get what we want?" I asked her. Pat came her answer – "A seamless breach."

'I WANT TO FULFILL RAMU'S WISH OF TAKING ARJUN GOWDA TO EVERY KANNADA AUDIENCE'

Actor Malashree speaks to CE ahead of the release of the film, which is set to hit the screens on December 31. She also spoke to us about taking charge of new responsibilities, the difficulties of bringing the film to theatres, and her production house, Ramu Films

AS Malashree takes charge of Ramu Films, she picks up things from where her late producer husband, Ramu, had left them. She has her hands full with Arjun Gowda, an upcoming film, directed by Lucky Shankar and starring Prajwal Devaraj and Priyanka Thimmesh. The film is slated to be released on December 31. "Sometimes, I wonder if it is just me who is making this film work or is it Ramu guiding me through it," says Malashree, who tells that her husband would discuss everything about movies, but never shared his stress with her.

"I was involved with him in film productions, and I have gained a little experience. However, talking on his behalf to people panics me. He would be always busy over the phone during the release times. And I used to complain that the phone has become his first wife. Today, as I deal with the release, I realise its importance," she says.

Malashree wants to fulfill the wish of her husband which is to take Arjun Gowda to every Kannada audience. "With our previous films, he would let everything to the directors, but Arjun Gowda was special to him. He not only worked on the release front, but involved himself in direction, editing, and even poster designing of the film. He would talk about it to our daughter and take her to the editing room to get her opinion. Even during his last days in the hospital, he kept discussing the movie with the crew."

A still from Arjun Gowda

Malashree says that Ramu had pinned high hopes on Arjun Gowda and would tell her that the film would become a big success. "His talks about Arjun Gowda created a lot of curiosity in me. I finally watched the film along with my children. It has come out well. Films made under Ramu's banner were always a celebration, except for the last few times. However, Arjun Gowda will bring back the success. It is a mass commercial flick with a small message highlighting a lot about media. Prajwal has given his best, and Priyanka Thimmesh and the team have done a good job too," she says.

When asked what is the challenging part in releasing a film, she says, "It is about getting the right kind of theatres. We lost many single screens due to covid crisis. Many such theatres are either closed down or under renovation. Also, promoting a film is another tough and vital task in today's scenario."

Going forward, Malashree wants to continue making films under their home banner. "I know about the struggles Ram went through to earn a name for this production house. I will continue to sustain that legacy, and Ramu will be around to guide me," she signs off.

Tahir Raj Bhasin, Amala Paul and Amrita Puri to star in Mahesh Bhatt's Ranjish Hi Sahi

CE FEATURES

AFTER a slew of romantic hits, Mukesh Bhatt and Jio Studios have joined hands for their first digital venture. The show, titled Ranjish Hi Sahi, will premiere on Voot Select.

Created by Mahesh Bhatt, the dramatic love story is headlined by Tahir Raj Bhasin, Amrita Puri, and Amala Paul (making her Bollywood debut). Set against the backdrop of the golden era of 70s Bollywood, the series revolves around the lives of struggling film director Shankar (Tahir), diva Aamna (Amala Paul), and Shankar's wife Anju (Amrita). A complicated love triangle ensues when the fledgling director finds a soulmate in the yesteryear star. Ranjish Hi Sahi is written and directed by Pushpdeep Bhardwaj. The series explores themes of love, trust, separation, and stardom. The plot echoes Mahesh's own fabled romance with screen goddess Parveen Babi. He had previously explored this episode in the semi-autobiographical film Arth (1982). Woh Lamhe (2006), directed by Mohit Suri from a story by Mahesh, had a similar plot.

2021 DOWNLOADING

It's a joyful exercise to witness the arrival of new talent or even see some old artistes finally get their due. While some of these names proved that screen-time doesn't necessarily define visibility, others demonstrated that the strongest presence is often made by those behind the camera. Here are breakout actors, filmmakers, and technicians who left a strong impression in Kannada and Bollywood cinema this year

SANDALWOOD

DHANYA RAMKUMAR

Dhanya Ramkumar is among the handful of newcomers this year. Hailing from the Rajkumar clan, Dhanya is the granddaughter of the legendary actor and daughter of Poornima and Ramkumar. She made her debut with Ninna Sanihake, which was released on October 8. The romantic drama had her paired opposite actor Suraj Gowda. The film also marked the latter's directorial debut.

GANAVI LAXMAN

Ganavi Laxman, who came to the limelight with tele serial Magalu Janaki, took a leap to the silver screen with Rishab Shetty's Hero. The actor, who always had an interest in films, made her cinema debut with Bharath Raj M's directorial, which hit the theatres on March 5.

ASHA BHAT

Former Miss Supranational and actor Asha Bhat, who hails from Bhadravathi, made her Kannada debut with Roberrt. The film, directed by Tharun Kishore Sudhir, had her paired opposite Challenging star, Darshan. The film, released on March 11, just before the second wave of the pandemic had a successful run at the box office, and it was declared the first blockbuster of the year 2021.

MANJU PAVAGADA

Manju Pavagada emerged as the winner of Bigg Boss Kannada Season 8. Manju won the popular reality TV show, hosted by Kichcha Sudeep, by taking down 20 other contestants. Manju Pavagada took home the trophy and cash prize of ₹53 lakhs. In his interview with CE, Manju had mentioned that he failed PUC six consecutive times and has also worked in a petrol bunk to get by. Manju held his silver screen dream intact and has been part of films including Ramarjuna and Brahmachari. He also got an opportunity to work in Shivanna's film, Bhajarangi 2.

THE ONES WHO MADE MARK

NAGABHUSHAN

Ikkat, which was released in July 2021, marked actor Nagabhushan's debut as a full-fledged hero, which was also his first OTT release. The comedy-drama, directed by Esham and Haseen Khan, set in the middle of pandemic lockdown, also had Bhoomi Shetty making her transition from teleserial to silver screen.

BOLLYWOOD

ADARSH GOURAV

27-year-old Adarsh Gourav impressed with a supercharged performance in The White Tiger. Ramin Bahrani's film is an all-too-faithful adaptation of Aravind Adiga's Booker-winning novel. Since the book, published in 2008, was powered entirely by its angsty protagonist, the 2021 Netflix adaptation had no choice but to get its central casting right. Jamshedpur-born Adarsh both fits in and stands out. As a repressed village boy with conflicting aspirations in a hierarchical world, he's terrific to watch. His oily scalp, low voice and faded work clothes are almost as memorable as some of the killer scenes he gets. The performance earned Adarsh a BAFTA nomination for best actor in a leading role.

VAANI KAPOOR

A cisgender actor portraying a trans character in a film about the acceptance of trans love is ripe for career suicide. Vaani Kapoor, then, had a lot to think before signing up for Chandigarh Kare Aashiqui. In the film, Ayushmann Khurrana's gym freak falls for a beautiful Zumba coach. They have sex multiple times before the girl reveals she's a trans woman. Her 'confession scene', which begins funny, is rescued largely by Vaani's moving embrace of her character's identity (though it takes her a while to get there). A little later, her ex-lover tells her to "get lost with that manly face"—a jibe few mainstream Hindi film stars would be comfortable with. Vaani truly lifts up Chandigarh, even if it's Ayushmann pulling the weights.

ADITYA MODAK

Just who, exactly, is a 'non-actor'? The term is used to describe performers picked from everyday settings (as opposed to a film or drama school). Age, ethnicity and professional expertise are usually a factor in their selection. Which is probably what led Chaitanya Tamhane to cast Aditya Modak—a 33-year-old Hindustani classical singer from Mumbai—as his lead in The Disciple. The film is about a struggling musician who's denied the alchemy of his craft. Aditya lends the role his voice and musical understanding. But he also gives it something more. Perhaps no one else, other than a trained singer himself, could have conveyed the film's underlying frustrations better. Just watch his face as he types out an angry response on YouTube, and then, after some thought, deletes it.

MRUNAL THAKUR

Mrunal Thakur has been in seven Hindi films so far. In five of them, she's a wife or love interest. Two of these films, Toofaan and Dhamaka, released earlier this year, and a third, Jersey, is on its way. It would seem a bright and promising actor has been woefully typecast. There is, after all, little variation between these roles. But Mrunal has done something subtly wonderful with them. She has infused her ordinary-seeming characters with a rare independence and depth. An industry as male-fixated as ours will continue to need its ancillary female leads. Does not mean they have to be forgettable. When Mrunal's character, Vidya, slaps Shahid Kapoor in the Jersey trailer, you sense how central she'll be in a film largely about a man.
